LONDON GIRL SWIMS STRAIT OF GIBRALTAR CANADA WINS FIRST HOCKEY GAME FROM U.S.

Boys From Broadway Are Outclassed By Montreal In Stanley Cup Contest

New York Rangers Put on Jaded Exhibition Against Maroons and Fail to Score; Dutton and Phillips Pocket Goals for Canadians; Montreal Forwards Shine Both on Offensive and Defensive, While Cook Brothers and Boucher, Rangers' Speedy Forwards, Are Bottled Up

Special to The Times

Montreal, April 6.—Scalp No. 1 of the world's hockey series dangles from the belts of the Montreal Maroons as the result of their knifing exhibition against the New York Rangers here last night. The Maroons had the Indian sign of the boys from Broadway and stuck them for a 2-0 victory.

The great effort of the Maroons, in turning back the threat from the city of white lights was doubly appreciated here, because it not only brought a win to Montreal and gave the town a leg up in its quest for the Stanley Cup, but it also put Canada one up in the battle against the United States for hockey supremacy. The Eastern States have not yet produced a team capable of lifting the premier hockey trophy. In advance it looked as though the Rangers had a splendid chance of taking some more sporting honor and glory into old New York, but unless the Rangers can dig up a couple of barrels of new form somewhere, they are likely to take the short end of the players' melon.

OUTCLASSED

The Rangers proved no match in either style or endurance for Canada's champs, and even four-man attacks near the game's end were useless against the Maroons. The Canadians got away to a slow start and didn't show much life throughout the opening period, but they made up for it later.

It remained for a red-headed comet from the Far West to give the Maroons the victory. Mervin Dutton, more familiarly known as "Red," scored the goal in the second period which was sufficient to give the locals a victory. He made an end-to-end rush, twisting and turning to avoid one Ranger after another. He left fly his famous right-hand, which missed the net by a foot. The puck flew back from the end boards and, when the Ranger defence carried a little too long in clearing, Dutton barged through and slapped the puck into the net behind Chabot.

THE SECOND GOAL

Dutton's goal was good enough to win the game for the Maroons, but the diminutive yet aggressive Bill Phillips, from the Soo, drove home another goal just to make sure, that everything would be all right. Dunc Munro, captain of the Maroons, made the opening for Phillips. Munro carried the puck right from his own net to the Rangers' study defence. Forced to the right of the net when he tried to crash right through the Rangers' last line Munro still controlled the puck and, when Abel darted in to cover him, he whipped the tell-tale pass in front of Phillips, and Phillips sent the puck hurtling into the cage.

Boucher and the two Cooks, the speedy Ranger forward triumvirate, had difficulty breaking away from their checks, and when they did get down for a shot, their attempts were effectively smothered by the Maroons' goalie, Benedict.

BETTER SUBSTITUTES

Maroons were superior, too, in their substitutes, and, in fact, it was while the substitute Maroon forward line was in action both goals were scored. The Rangers' substitutes shone defensively only, the Montreal blue line being their usual roving limit.

The Rangers have a goalie to be reckoned with in Chabot, who stopped plenty of shots that would have easily eluded an ordinary net tender. The two he did allow were so hard they were easily excusable.

SMALL BOY LOST FINGER AT PLAY

When Jackie Norton, five, and Freddie Stevenson, five, were playing in the backyard of Freddie's home on Wascana Street yesterday morning, Jackie lost a finger and had another one cut when his little playmate missed a stick Jackie was holding and hit him with an axe.

Jackie's finger "hurt him," he said, but he only cried a little bit.

CENSUS TRIAL

Albany, N.Y., April 6.—Mrs. Florence E. Knapp, former Secretary of State of New York State, was indicted on several charges out of her administration of the 1925 census, it was disclosed at the end of the first day's session of a grand jury investigation here last night.

DISCUSSES EUROPE FINANCIAL PLANS WITH ITALIANS

SEYMOUR PARKER GILBERT
Agent-General for Reparations

Rome, April 6.—The newspapers of Rome were convinced to-day that negotiations of unusual importance were under way here and that possibly a revision of the Dawes plan was being discussed. Seymour Parker Gilbert, Agent-General for Reparations, went into conference with Count Volpi, Italian Minister of Finance, early this morning.

HIS GOAL WINS

"RED" DUTTON

A goal in the second period of last night's Stanley Cup game by Dutton was sufficient to defeat the New York Rangers. Phillips added a second goal for the Montreal Maroons but it was not necessary as the Americans failed to score. Dutton played many games in Victoria in the Western Canada Hockey League as a member of the Calgary Tigers.

Cheap Lodgings For Unemployed In San Francisco

San Francisco, April 6.—Establishment of a municipal lodging house, where 2,000 itinerant workers can be housed in winter, was asked of the Board of Health last night by City Health Officer William G. Haasler. He said the city had spent $20,000 caring for unemployed for the past winter and accomplished very little, while establishment of a resort where men could obtain lodging for ten of fifteen cents nightly and bowls of soup and coffee at nominal prices would do much to eliminate the health menace of "flap houses" here.

STORY OF GREAT ACE'S BATTLE WITH GERMAN PILOT TOLD IN TIMES

The first of a series of stirring adventure stories from the experiences of Capt. Roy Brown of Toronto, the Canadian pilot who defeated Baron von Richthofen, the famous German ace, and sent him crashing to his death, will appear in to-morrow's Times. On page 4 of the Magazine and Feature Section to-morrow the first chapter of Capt. Brown's experiences are related.

Capt. Brown was a young pilot with twelve enemy planes to his string of victims when he met von Richthofen high above the clouds over the Western front. The German pilot had more than eighty British and French planes credited to him officially at that time and others for which he had never been given confirmation. These two, the veteran German and the fighting young Canadian, fought in a duel that is war history now. The story of that memorable battle is to be published in The Times as one of the series commencing to-morrow.

HOWARD IS WINNER OF ROAD RACE

Runs Ten-mile Course in Little Over Fifty-seven Minutes; Kersey Leads Juniors

Maintaining a steady pace all the way over the ten-mile course, Gordon F. Howard of Victoria walked away with the road race held this morning under the auspices of the Britannia Branch of the Canadian Legion. From the outset of the race it became evident that the laurels rested between Howard and C. Finmore.

Howard crept ahead and at the half way post, at the top of the Four Mile Hill, he was five hundred yards in the lead. At the finish, at the corner of Johnson and Broad Streets, Howard was nearly a mile in advance of his nearest competitor. After running about 300 yards behind Finmore all the way, R. Rogers took a spurt in the last mile and came in two seconds behind Finmore, who collapsed at the tape and had to be carried off the course. Howard's time was a little more than fifty minutes, and by his victory he will be able to keep in his possession for a year the handsome challenge trophy given by the Britannia Branch. Finmore made the course in about fifty-eight minutes and Rogers was two seconds slower.

R. Kersey, in twenty-three minutes, took the race held for juniors under the same auspices. Kersey made the run from Johnson and Broad Streets to Qu'Appelle Street and back again in fine shape and was closely followed all the way by Tom Coventry, who came in second. D. Stewart took third place in this class. The Victoria Daily Times perpetual challenge trophy goes to Kersey to be held until the race next year.

HOLIDAY MOTOR TRAFFIC LOADS BOATS TO DECKS

The beginning of the Easter holidays this morning brought a rush of mainland motorists to Victoria.

The two night boats from Vancouver brought forty-two cars and left a number behind which they were unable to find space for. The Princess Alice carried thirteen, while the Princess Louise carried twenty-nine. The Louise even had her upper open deck loaded with cars as she came in the harbor this morning.

The day boats from Seattle and Vancouver this afternoon were also loaded to the limit with motor cars and the reservations for Saturday are heavy.

Cook Stove Means Comfort For Aged, Lonely Pensioner

Comfort for a lonely pensioner in Victoria depends upon the generosity of some citizen who is willing to provide him with a cook stove. The aged man, in receipt of a small monthly cheque, faces life courageously on his small allowance and was independent in his modest way of living until he was faced with the necessity of securing a stove to replace the one past all repair. From his slender resources he is unable to make the purchase of the very necessary household article, and has appealed to the Friendly Help Association. The secretary requests anyone who has a stove to spare get in touch with her.

BILL PEDEN HAS RECORD CYCLE TIME

Wins Feature 10-Mile Event Against Mainland's Best Riders

In the record time of twenty-six minutes and forty-five seconds, "Big Bill" Peden of Victoria, to-day won the annual Penwill Cup ten-mile bicycle race at Beacon Hill Park.

It was a thrilling finish with Jim Davies, of Vancouver, former holder of the cup, only one-fifth of a second behind Peden's premier rider. Stan Jackson of Victoria, was third. At the halfway mark, Jackson was in the lead, having a slight margin over Davies, with Peden a close third. These three riders were in a continual fight for the lead throughout the race, the remainder of the entries never heading them. Less than five yards separated them throughout practically the whole race.

Henry MacLachlan of this city captured the one mile handicap race for boys under sixteen years of age. Peden was second and Claude Peden third. The winner's time was 2:48 2-5. The two-mile handicap for boys under sixteen was captured by William Expley in 5:06 1-5. Ingram McGavin was second and Gordon Scott third.

Rubber Company Dividend Omitted

New York, April 6.—Directors of the United States Rubber Company have omitted the quarterly dividend of $2 a share on the 8 per cent preferred stock due at this time, the first action of the kind since the issue was created in 1905. The amount of stock now outstanding is $65,110,000.

Voters' Lists Close Saturday

To-morrow is the last day for Victorians to get their names upon the provincial voters' lists, according to a final announcement from the Registrar of Voters. The lists in the city at the offices of Bishop & Worthington, 576 Yates Street, will remain open to-morrow from 9 a.m. to 10 p.m. When they close the last opportunity to register will have passed.

SAY PROVISION NECESSARY IN NEAR FUTURE

Advocates of Technical School Disappointed With Result of By-law Vote

Not Accepted as Considered Expression of Progressive Victoria, Says George Jay

That some provision will be necessary in the near future to accommodate High School students, despite the defeat of the Technical School by-law at the polls yesterday, is the tenor of opinions expressed by citizens closely identified with scholastic advancement in this city.

Keenest disappointment is given expression to by directors of the scholastic profession and those who have consistently advocated the erection of a technical school for the training of students for business and industrial careers. Some expressions of opinion on the vote follow:

GEORGE JAY

Chairman of the Victoria School Board "I cannot accept the result of the poll as a considered expression of progressive Victoria. The result is most disappointing to me. There is no doubt that some provision will have to be made in the future for accommodation at the High School, but just what form that provision will take, I cannot say."

JOHN KYLE

Organizer of Technical Education "I expected it. The School Board blossomed out very quickly in favor of technical education. The proposal was sprung upon the public too suddenly and it was out of the question to expect the public to respond quickly.

"But an excellent educational campaign has been waged and it has borne fruit."

"Victoria will have to have a technical school and it will come in time, of that I am convinced."

WEATHER DELAYS ARCTIC FLIGHT

Wilkins and Eielson Still at Point Barrow This Morning; Spitzbergen Objective

Seward, Alaska, April 6.—Cloudy weather yesterday kept Captain George H. Wilkins, Australian Arctic explorer, and Lieut. Ben Eielson of Nebraska, from starting their contemplated 2,100-mile aeroplane flight over the Ring of Fire. This was the substance of a message received here last night from Point Barrow, the most northerly tip of Alaska, from which Wilkins and Eielson hope to make their flight to Spitzbergen, in the eastern hemisphere.

Wilkins' radio call came through very faintly and much of his message was lost. He said something about "to-morrow," which was interpreted to mean he would again try to get away this morning, probably about 9 o'clock Pacific Coast time.

OPERATORS LISTEN

The United States signal service here will work a continuous shift, listening for K.D.Z. Wilkins' call, so that any word he sent out will not be lost. The explorers and Eielson, his pilot, plan to keep in touch with the outside by frequent messages once they take off. The explorers are faced by none too favorable weather, Alaska was swept by a snowstorm yesterday and latest advices from Oslo, Norway, were that conditions in the region of Spitzbergen were bad.

The explorers are attempting to penetrate the unexplored Polar ice in the hope of finding land.

CLOSE POLL ON BY-LAW FOR SCHOOL

Small Total of Votes Cast When City Spurns Technical School Offer

The Technical High School by-law was defeated yesterday at the city polls by 229 votes. The vote was the closest, though the lightest, on any issue for many years. Final recount figures were given out this morning. The total for the by-law was 1,157 and against, 1,133, a difference of just four votes.

The required total to have put the by-law through was three-fifths of the total poll, which was 2,326, including eighteen spoiled ballots. On the votes cast, a total of 1,396 was necessary to carry the by-law.

The first count at the close of the polls at 8 o'clock last night did not give the by-law a majority, and although the vote was the lightest cast on a money by-law in many years, the issue was doubtful in the beginning and close until the finish.

A first count gave the figures as 1,162 against, and 1,098 for the by-law. The by-law asked ratepayers to authorize the expenditure of $145,000 on a technical high school which was to cost $250,000. The Provincial Government had offered to contribute $105,000 towards the cost, and make additional grants for maintenance.

FRENCH PLANE IS MADE READY FOR ATLANTIC JUMP

Lieut. de Troyat Flies His Machine 700 Miles Over France

Dijon, France, April 6.—Lieutenant de Troyat, French flier, who took off from Le Bourget at 3:40 o'clock this morning and failed to return many hours later, this leading to conjectures that he might have started a projected east-to-west transatlantic flight, landed at Dijon at 1:40 p.m. The lieutenant in the nine hours he was in the air, made a swing to the south which carried him first to Marseille, on the Mediterranean, and then northward over the Rhine to Lyons and finally Dijon, which is about 170 miles southeast of Paris.

NEW YORK PLAN

He said he was satisfied with the performance of his machine, an exact copy of Colonel Lindbergh's famous Spirit of St. Louis, which he is grooming in the hope of being the first Frenchman to try a Paris-to-New York flight this year. To-day's circuit of approximately 700 miles was in the nature of a test flight and was made with a full load of gasoline.

Young London Typist of English Channel Fame Crosses in Twelve-and-a-half Hours From Point Near Tarifa, Spain, to Punta Leona, Near Ceuta, Morocco; Statement Confirmed by Numerous Witnesses

Gibraltar, April 6.—Telephoning from Tarifa, Spain, this morning, Mercedes Gleitze, London typist, announced she had swum the Strait of Gibraltar yesterday.

Miss Gleitze stated she had started about 10 a.m. from the Spanish side and crossed the twenty-seven miles of water to Morocco, arriving there at night. She returned to Tarifa.

She stated she had been accompanied on her swim by many Spanish witnesses.

She will leave for England this afternoon.

IS GIVEN GREETING IN ENGLAND ON ARRIVAL FOR VISIT

Henry Ford

Southampton, Eng., April 6.—Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ford were given an informal reception when they arrived here to-day aboard the steamship Majestic from New York. The mayor of Southampton happened to be aboard to meet a Hungarian delegation and took the opportunity to welcome the United States manufacturer and Mrs. Ford.

Press interviewers were not fortunate when they endeavored to get Mr. Ford to answer a rapid fire of questions, although he did give a guarded opinion on the recent announcement of Premier Baldwin concerning the removal of rubber export restrictions beginning November 1, 1928. Asked what he thought the effect of this would be on the American rubber industry, he answered: "I would not express an opinion, but will say I think it is a move in the right direction."

NEEDED AID

Shortly afterwards Dr. Dorothy Cochran Logan exposed her own "hoax" swim of the Channel. Miss Gleitze soon announced she would repeat her performance as a "personal vindication and for the honor of woman swimmers."

On October 21 she made her attempt of a "vindication swim," starting from Cape Griz Nez, France. She was taken almost unconscious from the water when eight miles off Dover, England.

MAY 24 PLANS
SHOW PROGRESSJunior Chamber of Commerce
Has Big Celebration Programme in Hand

Progress on plans for the two-day celebration of May 24, in the hands of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, was reported upon by W. T. Straith, president of the body, at the meeting of the members last night.

The programme thus far arranged, said Mr. Straith, would include a field sports programme, boat races, a May Queen Contest for school children only, a coronation ceremony, to be held at the Bay Street Armory, and a band concert, and on the evening of May 23 a Persian frolic, a sort of "midway" carnival on the streets was in embryo state, he went on, and this was in the hands of a capable committee.

May 24 itself would be featured by a parade, starting at 2 o'clock, with school children from every school of the city and surrounding districts in the line of march. A lacrosse game in the morning, and bicycle races, and a baseball game in the afternoon, together with an evening water carnival and regatta, followed by fireworks, were all tentatively arranged. The possibility of a big public dance at the Crystal Garden was being considered, Mr. Straith stated.

PROGRAMME TROUBLE

Mr. Straith said there was trouble in regard to arrangements for the celebration programme. A committee had been working on programme arrangements, he said. Joseph North had taken steps to arrange a programme independently, said Mr. Straith. In the meantime, the Chamber's committee had drawn up a draft of its programme and Mr. North was anxious to come to some settlement in the matter.

"I am not going to have anything to do with a programme," said Mr. Straith, "and the committee can hear any proposition Mr. North has to make, but I am not expressing any opinion in this matter, but I suggest that Mr. North go to the right place to make his suggestions."

"Joe North has run this thing for thirty-five years and I, for one, am not going to be one of an organization to fight an individual," said Eric

There are many ways to get temporary relief from ailments, but Husky, the herb preparation, is giving lasting relief and new health to thousands, because it strengthens the body organs.

Mr. Arthur Herriott, 1221 May Street, Victoria, has the following to say of his own fine experience with Husky: "For years I had suffered from constipation and stomach trouble. My stomach was so upset most of the time that I couldn't enjoy my meals and what I did eat caused me to suffer afterward. All the misery that goes with constipation and the condition of my stomach kept me weak and run down."

"At times I was hardly able to do my work. I finally decided to try Husky, and now I only wish I had turned to this fine medicine before. I have used five bottles of Husky and its treatment has placed my stomach in fine condition, aiding digestion and giving me an appetite. The constipation has disappeared since I have been using Husky. In fact, I have improved in health so much that my friends notice the change. I can recommend this medicine most highly to anyone suffering as I did."

LABOR FINDS
AIMS REALIZED

Government of B.C. Has Carried Out Many of Workers' Objectives, Speaker Shows

Ward Two, Victoria Liberals, at a well-attended meeting in the Liberal headquarters last night, were addressed by Alderman J. B. Clearthue on Labor problems. W. Dempster presided. The speaker outlined legislation which had been enacted by the present Provincial Government during its regime, and which had the unanimous endorsement of the wage earners of the Province.

Mr. Clearthue pointed out that almost every measure adopted during the Liberal regime was in conformity with the requirements of the Labor group. The speaker touched upon the minimum wage law for both sexes, the Hours of Work Act, the establishment of a provincial labor bureau in every centre of population through the Province, the Workmen's Compensation Board, the Mothers' Pension Act, the creation of the Department of Industries, workshops for the blind adults and reduction of income tax to such an extent that the average wage-earner is entirely exempt, also the Old Age Pensions Act. The speaker pointed out that the rate at which the present Liberal Government has been enacting legislation suitable to the working classes, there will eventually be nothing left of a reasonable nature on the agenda of the Labor Party of British Columbia.

Mr. Clearthue predicted a greater work of prosperity from one year hence than this Province has ever experienced, and a greater spirit of optimism combined with the co-operation of capital and industrial effort will eventually bring about the desired result. Several of the members present were given an opportunity to express their personal views regarding certain reforms under discussion.

Clearthue was accorded a hearty vote of thanks for his interesting address.

Metchosin, April 6.—There was a large attendance at the quarterly meeting of the Metchosin Sheep Breeders' Association held in Metchosin Hall Wednesday evening and several new members were added to the membership.

Arrangements for a sheep shearing and sheep killing demonstration were made, and the invitation of J. B. Edwards to hold this meeting on the grounds of Mrs. O. M. Jones's place was accepted. This meeting to be held in May, the exact date to be announced later. Addresses on diseases of sheep, management as well as the characteristics of the breeds will be the feature of this gathering.

Wool grading and marketing will also be considered. In the shearing contests, there will be three prizes, $1 for first prize, $3 for second prize, $2 for third prize, in two contests. That is shearing by hand and also machine shearing. In these contests, those competing are asked to provide themselves with the proper knives. In the machine class, shearing machines will be provided, but to insure satisfaction those competing will do well to bring along their own shears. Neatness of appearance of animal sheared as well as the fleece when rolled and tied will be considered in the judging as well as time consumed in the shearing. A carcass of mutton will be cut up to demonstrate the proper manner, and these cuts will be auctioned off, during the meeting.

W. Whitney-Griffith offers a prize for a children's contest, to the boy or girl who can name the breeds of sheep that will be on hand for the contest. These will, as far as possible, be the breeds most favored in the Province: Rambouillet, Southdowns, Shropshire, Hampshire, Suffolk, Dorset, Cheviot, Oxford, Leicester and Lincoln.

At this meeting all interested in sheep breeding are invited to be present. Seats will be provided for ladies and refreshments will be served on the grounds by the ladies. Mesdames Reid, Vitty, Young and McVicker assisting Mrs. Edwards on the occasion.

After the business session a social hour, with refreshments served by the ladies was enjoyed. In the discussions it was evident that the annual lamb crop is above the average, twins being the rule and triplets not uncommon. Whitney-Griffith Bros. reported a birth of four lambs to one of their Shropshire ewes. These four lambs being uniform in size and healthy.

Arrangements will be made by the secretary to secure all proper sacks and strings for shearing time and members can secure them from the association without the trouble of sending away for their individual supplies.

A. C. McVicker and L. Field were elected delegates to confer with the Farmers' Institute on all matters of common interest.

The secretary announced that at the Fall fair to be held in Victoria in August that four classes for grade sheep would be added to the usual prize list, according to information received from W. H. Moorman, secretary of the B. C. Agricultural Association. A sheep shearing contest will also feature the sheep department at that time. It is expected that several entries will go from here to compete for honors.

W. Whitney-Griffith reports that quadruplets were born on their farm yesterday afternoon to a registered Shropshire ewe, two ewe and two ram lambs.

USE OF LEAGUE OF NATIONS TO COMMUNITY IS EXPLAINED

Local Head Tells of Value of Organization to the World Peace Movement; Drive Is Now in Progress to Obtain New Members for Local Branch

"Of what use is the League of Nations to the community? Most people take the body of citizens of varying degrees of intelligence, and limited knowledge of international law and world problems, be of service to the League of Nations at Geneva? are questions which have been asked since the drive of April 17 was announced. They are pertinent questions indicating that the interest of the inquirers is aroused, which is an encouraging sign," says an announcement of the publicity committee.

"We believe the outstanding thought of citizens is: 'What is the value of this local branch of the world peace movement?' Most people take the League of Nations for granted, but many fail to see the satellites which revolve around it. For this reason we propose dealing with the League situation before referring to the great service rendered by the international body."

"The League of Nations is the outcome of a great revolution of feeling against armed conflict, resulting from the Great War. It came into being because the world recoiled against the thought of battle and slaughter; that revolt was public opinion asserting itself. Public opinion was the seed from which the League grew, and public opinion is the force which will nourish its roots and advance its fruitfulness."

"This force, called public opinion, has power to overthrow governments and change the whole fabric of established institutions. It is a great force, but it is only the aggregation of a common opinion held by individuals. In a combination of 1,000,000 units of equal value, any one unit is equal to any one of the others, and every citizen of Victoria who uses his or her influence in support of the League of Nations and its objects is as powerful a factor for peace as any individual, no matter where he resides."

"The creation of a great thought force which will convince the governments of the nations of the world that there must be no more war is the goal to strive for. Victoria will strengthen or weaken that force according to its response to the appeal. The League of Nations cannot continue without the support of public opinion, and it cannot dissolve while public opinion exists in sufficient force."

"We are acquainted with a small boy who has been blessed by the sun of only ten summers. He is an ordinary, normal boy who takes and enjoys life as it comes; he is fond of reading and sometimes peruses stories of the Great War. After a short period of such reading he becomes restless, closes the book and proceeds to the basement, where he fashions a sword out of pieces of wood, straps it to his waist and adds as many toy pistols to his equipment as his armory contains. Then he storms up the stairs, hurries himself into the living quarters and executes summary vengeance upon imaginary Germans in the persons of his long-suffering parents and a devoted dog. When his bellicose spirit tells him the position has been captured and the enemy killed, he dashes out of the front door, followed by the dog, bent upon finding the nearest conquer. The dog, influenced by the belligerent actions of its young master, stops to try conclusions with the neighbor's dog until one and the same mentioned long-sufferers separates the combatants, while the other is busy in the house 'mopping up' and restoring the scene of battle to its normal state."

"That boy is like most other boys. He is swayed by natural instincts, and if his bellicose trait is encouraged he will become a confirmed militarist, waiting the chance to come to grips with a real enemy. But, the public opinion is against war and the boy is influenced to turn his thoughts towards peaceful and useful avocations, he will become an apostle of peace instead of a devotee of war."

"There is no lack of pessimists who have no hope for the success of the League's work. They argue that human nature cannot be changed and, as fighting is a natural instinct, wars will continue while the world lasts. Human nature may be unchangeable, but public opinion can be and is changed continually."

"Common sense is the movement's greatest asset. What does the world gain from the crime of international conflict? How many widows, orphans, cripples, blind men and other victims of war are suffering from the mental defectiveness of mankind which decreases that disputes must be settled in blood and misery? When the world is aroused to the enormity of this preventable crime, common sense will prevail and the League of Nations will come into its own."

"The effect of war does not end with the cessation of hostilities. Children of unborn generations come into the world saddled with debts bequeathed to them by fighting borebears. Hatred between nations which was intensified by the conflict is ready to spring into active aggression at the slightest provocation; the world remains an armed camp, and the force of public opinion is required to prevent the sword being drawn from the scabbard."

"The work of the League of Nations deserves the support of every thinking man and woman. Its activities are not only towards improving our faulty civilization, and include, in addition to the settlement of disputes among nations and prevention of war, health, morals, protection of the interests of industrial wage-earners, protection of racial minorities, freer international intercourse and many other matters for the betterment of world conditions."

"We do not propose elaborating upon the work of the League. The object of this article is to answer the question: 'Of what use is the Victoria branch of the League of Nations Society in preserving peace?' We hope we have presented our case in support of the drive in a clear and convincing manner. If the points made have any merit, we appeal to the citizens of Victoria and district to give us their support and make the local effort an outstanding feature of the national campaign on April 17."

"The Victoria satellite which revolves around the League of Nations at Geneva is a real factor in the preservation of world peace. Mothers and fathers cannot do better than join the local society. The membership fee is an insurance premium against their sons playing the part in the tragedy of war. If war comes it will be their duty to fight and ours to support our country to the utmost limit. But our earnest and continuous prayer is: God grant there be no more war."

DENTIST WINS RIGHT TO PRACTICE IN B.C.

Vancouver, April 6.—On an appeal to Mr. Justice D. A. McDonald in the Supreme Court here, Edgar Beverley Neff has been admitted a member of the College of Dental Surgeons of British Columbia.

Neff's application to be admitted as a dentist, without examination and fees, on the ground that he had qualified in Saskatchewan and served as a soldier overseas in the World War, was rejected by the council of the British Columbia college. From its refusal he appealed. The matter some time ago came before Mr. Justice Murphy, who held the case for a rehearing, which resulted in the council turning down Neff's petition for the second time.

"It seems to me the council took too narrow a view," said Mr. Justice McDonald. "There should be comity between the provinces, and it seems to me if he was considered eligible to practice in Saskatchewan, he should be able to practice here. The appeal is allowed with costs."

Currie Answers Questions In His $50,000 Lawsuit

Cobourg, Ont., April 6.—The body of the motion entered by Frank Regan of Toronto, counsel for W. T. R. Preston and F. W. Wilson, defendants in the $50,000 suit for $50,000 damages for alleged libel brought against them by Gen. Sir Arthur Currie, in which the man who commanded the Canadian army in France during the World War is required to answer questions posed to him at his examination for discovery three weeks ago.

It is understood one of the important questions argued yesterday was the interpretation of the designation "Commander-in-Chief."

The statement of claim alleges that in the article in The Port Hope Guide complained of the following sentence appeared: "It was the last day and the last hour and the last minute, when to glorify the Canadian headquarters staff the commander-in-chief conceived the mad idea that it would be a fine thing to say that the Canadians had fired the last shot in the Great War."

Questions as to the significance of the terms brought out from Mr. Preston the statement that the words "commander-in-chief" did not necessarily mean Gen. Currie, but whoever issued the order for the attack on Mons.

SHOWMAN PUTS END TO HIS LIFE

New York, April 6.—The body of Perle Rumburg, a director of musical shows, was found last night in the bedroom of a suite he had rented yesterday in a hotel here. Beside the body was a small-calibre duelling pistol, a bullet from which had been fired through his heart. Police said he had shot himself.

Among papers in the room was a contract signed by a producer providing for payment of $1,000 and a salary of $500 a week for Rumburg as musical director of a forthcoming production.

CHARGE OF THEFT

Spokane, April 6.—The federal grand jury here yesterday indicted James C. Harris, former trust officer of the Exchange National Bank, charging him with the embezzlement of $42,007 of reserve bank funds. Harris is in a hospital, under guard, recovering from serious injuries received in an automobile crash which occurred just before the alleged shortage was announced by officials of the bank.

CHARGE WITHDRAWN

Vancouver, April 6.—In view of the verdict of the coroner's jury exonerating Frederick Hunter from blame in connection with the death of Mrs. H. H. Hayashi, who died as the result of injuries received when she was struck by Hunter's automobile at Broadway and Willow streets, the charge of manslaughter laid against the driver was withdrawn yesterday.

APRIL HOPE

EVERY SPRING, WHEN WE CELEBRATE the great Easter festival, the earth is rejuvenated. A hint of its lost youth comes back. We get a glimpse of what life must have been back in the fabled Golden Age, when the globe was still new and unsullied.

Those who live and work in cities and towns might be expected to miss this springtime rebirth. They don't see the flowers appear in the woodlands; except for little patches of lawn and park, we are unable to keep tab on the arrival of the new grass. They miss the awakening of the forest, where black, barren branches suddenly become clothed in delicate green mists.

But they know Spring is here, just the same. Spring is an insidious thing; it steals into their hearts and develops there the seeds that have lain torpid all winter. The child of the slums, who never sees a tree or a lawn, knows when Spring is here as infallibly as the farmer's boy.

Spring unsettles us and makes us restless. At times we feel strange impulses stirring within; the open road beckons more strongly than at any other time, and we feel our latent kinship with the Gypsies. Spring has taken the scales off our eyes and enabled us to see that nothing life can hold is worth as much as springtime idleness in the sunshine.

Spring is contradictory. There is something pagan about it; yet, at the same time, Spring insistently repeats the ancient message of Easter. We know, in April, that we are immortal. That, perhaps, is why we feel so indolent. What is time to a being who has all eternity? The whole earth is ours to do with as we like; what if this life is fleeting? Something deeper than reason or experience comes to us on the Spring breezes and whispers that endless time stretches out ahead of us, like a country road in April, ours to explore as we please.

What would happen if we all gave way to the impulse of Spring together some day? Suppose we all yielded some morning and quit our shops and offices and strolled out into the country, resolved to do nothing but enjoy the Spring weather? Well, the wheels of industry would doubtless be put sadly askew, for the day; in addition, most of us probably would catch colds.

Yet it isn't a bad idea. Industry would soon catch up, and a cold is soon cured. And if we could momentarily renew our contact with the earth, and draw from it an infusion of its eternal youth, it would be well worth anything.

A BLUNDER

THE DEFEAT OF THE TECHNICAL school by-law, in the judgment of The Times, was a blunder which is bound to have regrettable consequences. It is true there was a small majority in favor of the project, but it fell short of the proportion required to pass the measure. The interpretation that generally will be placed upon the decision is that Victoria does not want this form of training for its young people, that it prefers that those boys and girls who desire it should go elsewhere to get it. The city's attitude towards this subject, as expressed by the vote yesterday, is in direct conflict with that of every other important community on this continent, and with the spirit and trend of modern progress. In this respect we occupy a position of inglorious isolation.

We realize, of course, that the prospect of increased taxation, slight though it was likely to be, was the chief factor in determining the outcome of the poll, but within a year or more, as a result of the defeat of the technical school by-law, we shall have to erect a large addition to the High School, towards which the Government can make no grant and which, therefore, will cost the taxpayers much more than a technical school would have cost them. This is as inevitable as the process of the sun. We are compelled to provide accommodation for our increasing school population whether we want to or not. Therefore, instead of something being saved, in a financial sense, for the taxpayers yesterday, there is certain to be a loss, apart altogether from the effect the decision must have upon the youth of the community. Nor could we be certain of another offer of a contribution by the Government, even if we decided next year to do what we ought to have done yesterday. Having rejected this offer we would have no ground for complaint if it were claimed—as it is likely to be—by some other community of the Province more progressive in its attitude towards technical education than Victoria has shown itself to be.

The fact that less than a fourth of those who are entitled to vote on this question bothered themselves sufficiently to do so does not affect the conclusion we have drawn from the result of the poll. Those who did not vote either did not want the school or were not sufficiently interested in the question one way or the other to spend a few minutes in recording their votes. In the opinion of The Times Victoria injured itself at home and its reputation abroad by the decision given by its ratepayers yesterday.

MR. BALDWIN LOSES ANOTHER SEAT

PREMIER BALDWIN HAS LOST another seat. Linlithgowshire has once again sent a Laborite to represent it in the House of Commons by a substantial majority.

This contest was particularly interesting because the daughter of the late member, whose death caused the vacancy, sought to keep the seat in the family; and considering the fact that she, Miss Margaret Kidd, was only twenty-five years of age, she did well against Mr. Shinwell, who was contesting the seat for the fifth time and won it for the third time since 1918. The figures were: Mr. Shinwell, Labor, 14,445; Miss Kidd, Conservative, 9,268; Mr. Young, Liberal, 5,690.

The first time a Liberal had taken part in a fight in this riding since the war was in 1922, since it is considered a fairly safe Labor seat, when he polled 5,605 votes. In 1923 the Liberal strength dropped to 4,691; it will thus be seen that Liberalism in Linlithgowshire is more or less stationary in its appeal to the electors. No Liberal entered the lists in the 1924 contest.

The late Mr. Kidd won the seat as a Coalition-Unionist in 1918 with a majority of more than four thousand over Mr. Shinwell. Mr. Shinwell winning back the seat in 1922, also by a majority around four thousand, and he retained it in the 1923 contest with a majority of more than five thousand; in the "red" election of 1924, however, Mr. Kidd was victorious with a majority of 642. So that Miss Kidd had very little margin upon which to base hopes of victory.

Incidentally, of course, although the riding could not be called traditionally Conservative by any means, the result takes one more representative from Mr. Baldwin's following in the House—a process that has been going on steadily during the last twelve months.

VICTORIA'S APATHY

ONE OF THE MOST UNSATISFACTORY features in connection with the polling on the technical school by-law yesterday was the small number of taxpayers who took the trouble to vote. Approximately 9,500 were eligible to mark a ballot, yet only 2,310 did so—not even a twenty-five per cent. turn out.

This apathetic attitude is not a good advertisement for Victoria. The outsider looking to this city as a likely community in which to reside will not be impressed by such lukewarmness towards an extremely important public question. Yesterday's insignificant poll is by no means an exception; other by-laws that have been submitted to the taxpayers in recent years have attracted very little more interest. It is the same story every year at the municipal elections.

The people of this city ought to give this matter their earnest consideration and see to it that on future occasions a more convincing proof of our interest in civic affairs is provided for the outsider. We should take a leaf out of Seattle's book. At the recent mayoralty election in that city just a few less than 100,000 out of a voting population of about 120,000 marked ballots.

ENCOURAGING BIRD LIFE

From The Canadian Forest and Outdoors

Water supply is an essential factor in the encouragement of bird life. Without water there can be no bird life. Winter feeding is also of first importance and if we are to plan to help birds solve their food problems we must bear in mind that winter is the time of greatest need. Winter foods commonly used include suet, pork rinds, bones with shreds of meat, cooked meat, meal worms, cut apples, crackers, crumbs, nuts, cereals and seeds. The devices most suitable for wood, lot use are the so-called food-bells and food houses, which will hold a considerable supply of food. One of the receptacles recommended by Mr. McAtee is a coconut with a hole bored in one end and the cavity filled with a food mixture. The coconut may be suspended from the limb of a tree by a wire. It is weather proof. Cans with small openings may be substituted for coconuts; food baskets in any size made of wire netting or metal grating may be hung up. The food house is a permanent structure with a solid roof and glass front to permit observation. The food trays in these houses are entirely sheltered from the weather, hence are available to birds throughout the winter.

THE NEW COMPENSATION ACT

From The Montreal Star

The Provincial Legislature, after a great deal of debate, preceded by months of suggestion and consideration, has succeeded in shaping a Workmen's Compensation Act, which is now about to pass through the final stage of formality before becoming effective. Along with this Act there has passed through the Provincial House a measure providing for the constitution of a special commission of three members to administer the Compensation Law.

The degree of success attending the operation of this new law dealing with workmen's compensation depends to a very large extent on the special qualifications of the members of the commission for dealing with industrial questions and disputes.

The services of the best available talent are called for, men possessed of legislative experience in labor matters and also fully conversant from the practical standpoint, with the workers and their interests. There are in this province several labor experts who have had considerable experience of conciliation board work and who, from long acquaintance with and special study of labor problems have the qualifications required for service on this commission about to be set up.

A THOUGHT

Unto the pure all things are pure.—Thus I, S. He that has light within his own clear breast may sit in the centre and enjoy bright day.—Milton.

DO YOU KNOW—

That an average-size tree with a spread of 50 feet of foliage under normal conditions throws off 5 barrels of water a day in the form of vapor. This is attracted to the clouds and returns to the earth as rain.

CHILDREN'S HEALTH

To the Editor:—It is about time that we consider the health of our children a little more than we do at present. As a physical director I have had quite a lot to do with the physical disabilities of children as well as adults, and I would suggest that many of the ills could be eliminated were our children given the proper instruction regarding sitting correctly in school, this alone would eliminate many, of not most, of the cases of spinal curvature. I should also like to see a new rule whereby, especially in the junior classes, the children would only be in school forty minutes and twenty minutes out in the open at games of every hour.

Parents who have the health of their children at heart ought to think of their own school days. Everyone must put together for a healthier, happier future generation. C. SPENCE MATTHEWS, N.D., Ph.D. Victoria, B.C., April 5, 1928.

TARIFF SUGGESTION

To the Editor:—These be the days of the literary world apparently of strange paradox and rather strained metaphor. One is led to these reflections on the discovery that the one time protectionist has called from him the old time, shibboleth of "protection" as absurd and obsolete and put in its place "a tariff for the defence of home industries." Much more sensible and it lives up to its name there seems no reason why it may not receive the support of Liberal as well as Conservative.

Neither the words "free trade" nor "protection" are correct. The same Canadian mind of to-day on tariff questions. The writer would therefore go farther and label his tariff one for the defence of the Canadian home industry. Get away from the old slogan altogether, and ask everybody to jump into our car (wagon is obsolete).

As to a paradox, was it our Minister of Defence who declared the other day that he "had started on the war-path for peace"? H.A.M.

RE ADMISSION PRICES FOR EVENING CONCERTS, MUSICAL FESTIVAL

To the Editor:—It has come to the attention of myself as president of the Victoria Musical Festival Association that there is some criticism regarding the admission fee for the evening sessions of the festival commencing next Tuesday, the 10th instant and concluding Saturday the 14th instant. I would like to explain to the public generally through your columns, why it has been necessary to set the admission fees as they are.

To stage a festival of the size and importance of the one next week, involves a very heavy expense, and the directors of the festival have been endeavoring to so arrange things that receipts will at least meet expenses. There is no intention of attempting to make the festival as a money making scheme.

The great difficulty that faced the directors was the lack of a suitable auditorium with special seating accommodation to enable a low admission fee to be made.

At last year's festival the bulk of our revenue came from the bulk of our audience on the Saturday evening, but this year the festival is two weeks earlier and owing to the lack of seating in the United Church, this building accommodates less than one-third that of the Arena, it was, therefore, necessary to increase the price of admission for the last night. The prices of admission to all other sessions are the same as last year, excepting that festival membership tickets do not admit holders to the evening sessions.

The directors would like to assure the public of Victoria who so loyally rallied to the support of the festival last year that the directors are doing their utmost to make the festival a people's festival and have done the very best they could to keep the price of admission within the reach of all, having in mind our financial responsibilities and would urge that we be given the same hearty support and cooperation this year.

It may be interesting to the public generally to know that included in the 540 entries received, there are sixty-seven entries from points outside of Victoria, as follows: Vancouver 23, Duncan 16, Nanaimo 8, Courtenay 1, Vancouver 2, Hope 1, Courtenay 1, Cumberland 1, and from the United States, Portland 2, Seattle 1, Aberdeen 1, Port Angeles 1, all of the above in addition to outside choir—one from Port Angeles, one from Shawanigan and one from Duncan. The entries from the United States give us an international flavor to the festival.

If people living so far away from Victoria are showing such an interest in our festival by spending time and money coming here to make it a success, I feel confident that the citizens of Victoria will rise to the occasion and give the same hearty support to many of the sessions, both day and night as

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO TO-DAY

THE VICTORIA DAILY TIMES, APRIL 6, 1903.

The funeral took place this afternoon of William Lucas of Tolmie Avenue, father of Oscar Lucas of The Times editorial staff. The late Mr. Lucas was seventy-three years of age.

A letter was received in the city to-day from A. H. Mitchell of the firm of Challoner and Mitchell from Amsterdam saying that he had purchased the firm's supply of gems from the great diamond-cutting centre. Mr. Mitchell will be back in Victoria in six weeks.

The teachers' convention will be held at Revelstoke next week, and H. Dunnet of the Manual Training School and Miss Lawson of Kingston Street School are making preparations to be present. It is probable that Miss Agnes Deans' Cameron will also be one of the Victoria delegates.

Members of the Junior basketball team, J. Temple, M. Leo Sweeney, T. Gawley, A. Mulcahy and H. Roskamp, have established an enviable record this season, winning five out of six league games.

Mrs. E. J. Rice, Miss Winnifred Lugin, Madame Laird, J. G. Brown, A. Longfield and Jesse Longfield were among those taking part in the sixth of a Lenten series of sacred concerts at St. John's Church last evening.

BIG FIRE HAZARD ALONG RAILWAYS

Sudbury, Ont., April 6.—Declaring the fire hazard along the railways in the Cochrane, Hearst and Kapuskasing districts was the most serious problem he had met with during his term of office, Hon. William Finlayson, Minister of Lands and Forests, startled the afternoon session of the Chief Rangers and Foresters of Eastern Ontario, in session here, with his description of the conditions.

"A cloud is hanging over our heads which might wipe out the railways," he said. "All the conditions are bad up there." "Slashings," he said, were left along the railways. He stated that when he went there he felt like asking the railways to "fire" all the men responsible and have all the men in his department from that section dismissed.

"I am not exaggerating," he said. "I am more worried by this than anything I have met in the department." The minister proposed to start a publicity campaign immediately and stated that the Government was willing to spend any money necessary to avert the danger.

"We are faced with the possibility of losing those three towns in one week," he stated.

"I realize the Land Department is partly to blame." He pointed out that was where wood had been robbed extensively in that district. "Hundreds of thousands of cords of pulp wood have been stolen," he stated. "We are taking steps to recover a portion of it."

SOVIET GOLD IS SHIPPED FROM U.S. TO GERMANY

New York, April 6.—Gold bars valued at more than $5,000,000, sent here by the Soviet Russian Government in February, which the United States declined to accept and France sought to obtain by court action, were shipped out of the country to Germany yesterday.

The Bank of France announced its court action would be prosecuted and that the two banks in which the gold was held were to be liquidated. An announcement from attorneys for the State Bank of New York said the gold bars had been shipped to Germany.

The gold arrived here February 21 to be used for facilitating trade relations between the Soviet and the United States and was deposited with the Chase National Bank and the Equitable Trust Company.

The Bank of France did not obtain a writ

The one supremely good health building tonic that is also the one great weight producer known to modern science the country over is McCoy's Cod Liver Extract Tablets.

They build flesh where flesh is needed—sunk cheeks, neck and chest—and many a man and woman, skinny and scrawny, have thanked McCoy's after a few weeks' treatment for the decided improvement in looks and figure.

CHAPTER'S TRIBUTE TO PIONEER'S MEMORY

At the regular monthly meeting of the Lady Douglas Chapter, I.O.D.E., held in the Victoria clubrooms yesterday, the meeting stood as a tribute to the memory of one of the earliest members, Mrs. Fowell, from whose family a letter of thanks was read for flowers and sympathy sent.

The absence of the standard bearer, Miss Hill, through illness was noted with regret, and a letter of sympathy was voted to be sent. Mrs. McKicking reported a real improvement in the health of Mrs. R. L. Phillips, from whom a note of thanks was read for flowers sent to her from the commemorative tea on March 14. A vote of thanks was passed to the Commodore Broughton Chapter for the charming programme provided on that day.

It was decided to hold a rummage sale on the morning of Wednesday, April 25, and Mrs. Walker as convenor asked the members to assist her with contributions and by making it known to their friends. Those willing to help are requested to notify her.

Following the next monthly meeting on May 3 a silver tea will be held by the chapter to raise the $10 required for the Local Council of Women. The convenor, Mrs. Chibborn, asks for contributions.

The chapter will be represented at the fête to be held in the Crystal Garden on Monday, April 16, by an art gallery, under the direction of the regent, Mrs. R. B. McKicking. Members requiring tickets are requested to apply to Mrs. J. S. Brown, treasurer, telephone 76723. The chapter was urged to sell as many tickets as possible in order to assist the Canadian Scottish Regiment in raising the funds for their colonel by the municipal annual meeting by Miss Cooke, educational secretary, and a report of that meeting was brought in by the Echoes secretary, Mrs. Boyd, urging every member to become a subscriber to Echoes.

SEYMOUR HICKS TO ADDRESS WOMEN

Seymour Hicks, eminent English actor who is appearing at the Royal Victoria Theatre all next week, will be the speaker at the meeting of the Women's Canadian Club Tuesday at 2.45 at the Empress Hotel. Mr. Hicks will be accompanied by Mrs. Hicks (Kathleen Terrell) and their daughter, Miss Betty Hicks. Mrs. D. B. McConnan will be the soloist.

Sylvia Pankhurst Is Mother of Son

Notorious Socialist, Though Unmarried, Announces Birth in London

London, April 6.—The Daily Herald in its advertising columns on April 3 carried the following announcement: "Sylvia Pankhurst announces the birth of her son, Richard Keith Pethick Pankhurst." The announcement created much interest as Miss Pankhurst is unmarried, and her friends state that she does not believe in the legal form of marriage because it fetters women's freedom. Miss Pankhurst is the daughter of Mrs. Pankhurst, who resided in Victoria some years ago, and has always been an extremist in her views. She is a Socialist of the most radical type, and it is assumed that the child was named after two prominent Socialist-Labor leaders, Keith Hardie and Pethick Lawrence.

$50,000 BREACH OF PROMISE SUIT

Seattle Dealer's Story of Poker Winnings Given to Girl

Seattle, April 6.—Opening her $50,000 breach of promise suit against Charles R. Brower, Seattle, asbestos dealer, Claire Austrom, twenty-one, told a Superior Court jury here to-day of a period of many months in which she lived in fashionable apartments, which Brower admitted were maintained at his expense.

When Brower took the stand he told how he gave Miss Austrom several hundred dollars a month without his wife, who is his business partner, learning about it. When he played poker and lost, he said, he charged it to the firm, but when he played and won, he gave his winnings to Miss Austrom.

VICTORIA MAN IS WED ON MAINLAND

Dr. T. C. Holmes Takes Miss Margaret Burns of Vancouver as Bride

Vancouver, April 6.—A quiet nuptial service was solemnized on Wednesday evening at the residence of the bride's parents at 4888 Angus Avenue, when Margaret Muirhead, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Burns, was united in marriage to Dr. T. C. Holmes, son of Dr. and Mrs. W. Lane Holmes of Beach Drive, Victoria. Tall vase baskets holding pale pink carnations made an attractive feature of the ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a handsome ensemble of tulle, a combination of rose beige novelty tulle and flat crepe, and a close-fitting model hat of harmonizing straw, with front ornament of rhinestone. Her corsage bouquet was composed of orchids, roses, lily of the valley and bridal fern.

As bridesmaid Miss Madge Burton wore a semi-train of Wedgewood blue tulle and a close-fitting hat of black French felt. She carried an arm sheaf of pastel pink carnations intermingled with fern. Dr. W. E. Harrison supported the groom as best man and Miss Peggy Maynard supplied the wedding music.

At the conclusion of the ceremony a reception was held for relatives and intimate friends, the drawing-room being artistically decorated for the occasion with roses and tulips. Mrs. Burns received the guests wearing an attractive gown of atmosphere grey georgette, fashioned in coat effect with front panel of matching lace and having an ornament of rhinestone to fasten the belt. She wore a corsage bouquet of Ophelia roses.

In the dining-room the floral decorations were diffused and the pre-arranged tea table was centred with the three-tier wedding cake encircled with white tulle and violets, while tall yellow tapers in silver sconces were placed at intervals. Mrs. A. B. MacDonald and Mrs. Kenneth Burns presided, and assisting servers were Miss H. McLeod, Miss Velma Cooper, Miss R. Peel, Miss Beanie Knox, Miss May Knox and Miss Dorothy Banks.

Later in the evening Dr. and Mrs. Holmes left for a honeymoon trip to Victoria, after which they will reside at Lillooet.

VARSITY PLAYERS HIGHLY PRAISED

Miss Hope Leeming of Victoria Proves Fascinating "Polly"

Theatre critics were unsparring in their praise of the University Players' production of "Polly With a Past" given for the first time in the Mainland city recently. This play is coming to the Royal Victoria Theatre on May 7, under the auspices of the Kiwanis Club, and as is customary with the plays produced by these young students of the University of British Columbia, the proceeds will be used for philanthropic purposes.

R. Jamieson, the critic of The Vancouver Province, said in his critique: "U.B.C. players shine in bright comedy. Their thirteenth annual play is cleverly acted and well staged. While the play has no purpose beyond that of entertainment it is probably one of the best-staged and best-acted offerings of the student dramatic club. This is chiefly due to the brilliant acting of Alfred Evans, a Freshman, and Miss Hope Leeming of Victoria, who has proved her worth in other University productions. To the direction of Professor F. C. Wood, of course, must go the credit for the workmanlike presentation."

"The technical side of the production, especially the scenery, maintained the previous high standards. Lighting and costuming were excellent."

The Vancouver Sun said: "In a part which calls for rare technique and unusual powers of characterization, she [Miss Hope Leeming] acquires herself with distinction. Miss Leeming's performance is undoubtedly the best that has been witnessed in college theatrical affairs since the presentation of 'Green Stockings' in 1920."

GRADUATE NURSES OF B.C. TO MEET

Annual Provincial Gathering in Vancouver Next Week

A number of local nurses will attend the annual meeting of the Graduate Nurses' Association of British Columbia which is to be held at the General Hospital, Vancouver, on Monday and Tuesday.

Dr. H. W. Hill of the University of British Columbia, the principal speaker, on Monday afternoon, will take as his topic, "The Public Health Nurse as an Epidemiologist." and Mrs. B. Cleveland will deal with "Sight Saving in the Schools."

On Monday evening there will be a general meeting, at which time the election of delegates to the biennial meeting of the Canadian Nurses' Association, to be held in Winnipeg during July, 1928, will be made.

Round table conferences will take place on Tuesday morning, and the speakers at the afternoon meeting will include Dr. D. E. Cleveland and Dr. Frank Patterson.

The closing gathering will take the form of a banquet at the Hotel Georgia at 7.45 o'clock. Graduate nurses are invited to this function, the chief speaker being Miss Edith Bryan, B.A., R.N., of the University of California. She is assistant professor of public health nursing at that institution.

ADVANCES HIGH SCHOOL PLANS

Trustee Horner Has Proposal For Institution at Royal Oak

A proposal for the purchase of the site of the Royal Oak Hotel, adjoining the Royal Oak School, upon which a high school for Saanich might be erected, will be brought forward by Trustee Horner at the next meeting of the Saanich School Board.

Increased attendance at the Victoria High School from the Saanich municipality, and the possible overcrowding of the city institution, are Trustee Horner's first reasons for desiring a high school.

The Royal Oak site is a central location, at the junction of three roads leading to all Saanich wards, and almost exactly between the urban and rural districts, Trustee Horner points out.

The "CANARY" MURDER CASE

By S. S. VAN DINE
Author of "The Benson Murder Case"

"Do ask him about those silk shirts," suggested Vance. "And find out, if you can, if he considers a white waistcoat de rigueur with a dinner-jacket."

"This office isn't a male millinery shop," snapped Markham.

"But Markham, dear, you won't learn anything else from this Petronius."

Ten minutes later a deputy sheriff from the Tombes entered with his handcuffed prisoner.

Steele's appearance that morning belied his sobriquet of Dude. He was haggard and pale; his ordeal of the previous night had left its imprint upon him. He was unshaven; his hair was uncombed; the ends of his moustache drooped; and his cravat was awry. But despite his bedraggled condition, his manner was jaunty and contemptuous. He gave Heath a defiant leer, and faced the district attorney with swaggering indifference.

To Markham's questions he doggedly repeated the same story he had told Heath. He clung tenaciously to every detail of it with the ready accuracy of a man who had painstakingly memorized a lesson and was thoroughly familiar with it.

Markham coaxed, threatened, bullied. All hint of his usual affability was gone; he was like an inexorable, dynamic machine. But Steele, whose nerves seemed to be made of iron, withstood the various fire of his cross-questioning without winking; and, I confess, his resistance somewhat aroused my admiration despite my revulsion toward him and all he stood for.

After half an hour Markham gave up, completely baffled in his efforts to elicit any damaging admissions from the man. He was about to dismiss him when Vance rose languidly and strolled to the district attorney's desk. Seating himself on the edge of it, he regarded Steele with impersonal curiosity.

"So you're a devotee of Khun-Khan, eh?" he remarked, indifferently. "Bully game, what? More interesting than Conquain or Rum, though. Used to be played in the London clubs. Of East Indian origin, I believe. You still play it with two decks, I suppose, and permit round-the-corner matter."

An involuntary frown gathered on Steele's forehead. He was used to violent district attorneys, and familiar with the bludgeoning methods of the police, but here was a type of inquisitor entirely new to him; and it was plain that he was both puzzled and apprehensive. He decided to meet this novel antagonist with a smirking, arrogant amusement.

"By the way," continued Vance, with no change in tone, "can any one hide in the clothes-press of the Odell living-room on the davenport through the keyhole?"

Suddenly all trace of a smile was erased from the man's features.

"And I say," Vance hurried on, his lips fixed steadily on the other, "why didn't you give the alarm?"

"I was watching Steele closely, and though his set expression did not alter, I saw the pupils of his eyes dilate. Markham, also, I think, noted this phenomenon."

"CHAPTER XXI."

"Don't bother to answer," pursued Vance, as the man opened his lips to speak. "But tell me: didn't the sight shake you up a bit?"

"I don't know what you're talking about," Steele retorted with sullen impertinence. But, for all his sangfroid, one sensed an uneasiness in his manner. There was an overtone of effort in his desire to appear indifferent, which robbed his words of complete conviction.

"Not a pleasant situation, that," Vance ignored his retort. "How did you feel, crawling there in the dark, when the closet door-knob was turned and someone tried to get in?" His eyes were boring into the man, though his voice retained its casual intonation.

The muscles of Steele's face tightened, but he did not utter a word.

"Look, you're taking the precaution of locking yourself in—eh, what?" Vance went on. "Suppose he'd got the door open—my word! Then what?"

He paused and smiled with a kind of silky sweetness which was more impressive than any glowing aggression.

"I say, did you have your steel chisel ready for him? Maybe he'd have been too quick and strong for you—maybe there would have been thuds pressing against your larynx, too, before you could have struck him—ah? Did you think of that, there in the dark? No, not precisely a pleasant situation. A bit gruesome, in fact."

"What are you raving about?" Steele spat out insolently. "You're balmy. But his swagger had been forgotten, and a look akin of horror had passed across his face. This slackening of pose was momentary, however; almost as once his smirk returned, and his head swayed in contempt."

Vance sauntered back to his chair and stretched himself in it listlessly, as if all his interest in the case had again evaporated.

Markham had watched the little drama attentively, but Heath had sat smoking with ill-concealed annoyance. The silence that followed was broken by Steele.

"Well, I suppose I'm to be railroaded. Got it all planned, have you? Try and railroad me!" He laughed harshly. "My lawyer's Abe Rubin, and you might phone him that I'd like to see him."

Markham, with a gesture of annoyance, waved to the deputy sheriff to take Steele back to the Tombes.

"What were you trying to get at?" he asked Vance, when the man was gone.

Just an elusive notion in the depths of my being struggling for the light," Vance smiled placidly a moment. "I thought Mr. Steele might be persuaded to pour out his heart to us. So I wooed him with words."

"That's just bully," glibbed Heath. "I was expecting you any minute to ask him if he played mumble-peg or if his grandmother was a boot-peg."

"Sergeant, dear Sergeant," pleaded Vance, "don't be unkind. I simply couldn't endure it. And really, now, didn't you chat with Mr. Steele suggest a possibility to you?"

"Sure," said Heath. "That he was hiding in the closet when Odell was killed. But where does that get us? It lets Steele out, although the job was a professional one, and he was caught red-handed with some of the swag."

He turned disgustedly to the district attorney.

"And now what, sir?"

"I don't like the look of things," Markham complained. "If Steele has Abe Rubin to defend him, we won't stand a chance with the case we've got. I feel convinced that he was mixed up in it; but no judge will accept my personal feeling as evidence."

"We could turn the Duke loose, and have him tailed," suggested Heath grudgingly. "We might catch him doing something that'll give the game away."

Markham considered.

"That might be a good plan," he conceded. "We'll certainly get no more evidence on him as long as he's locked up."

"It looks like our only chance, sir."

"Very well," agreed Markham. "Let him think we're through with him; he may get careless. I'll leave the whole thing to you, Sergeant. Keep a couple of good men on him day and night. Something may happen."

Heath rose, an unhappy man.

"Right, sir. I'll attend to it."

"And I'd like to have more data on Charles Cleaver," added Markham. "Find out what you can of his relations with the Odell girl—Also, get me a line on Doctor Ambrose Lindquist. What's his history?—what are his habits?—you know the kind of thing. He treads the girl for some mysterious or imaginary ailment; and I think he has something up his sleeve. But don't go near him personally—yet."

Heath jotted the name down in his note-book, without enthusiasm.

"And before you set your stylish cap on me, Vance, yawning, 'You might, don't you know, see if he carries a key that fits the Odell apartment.'"

Heath jerked up short, and grinned.

"Now, that idea's got some sense to it. Funny I didn't think of it myself. And shaking hands with all of us, he went out in Vance, yawning. (Wednesday, September 12, 10:30 a.m.) Swacker was evidently waiting for an opportunity to interrupt, for when Sergeant Heath had passed through the door, he at once stepped into the room."

"The reporters are here, sir," he announced, with a wry face. "You said you'd see them at ten-thirty."

In response to a nod from his chief, he held open the door, and a dozen or more newspaper men came trooping in.

YOUR BABY and MINE

By MYRTLE MEYER ELLERD

Mrs. Ellerd will be glad to answer all questions pertaining to babies and children. A stamped and self-addressed envelope forwarded to this office will receive a prompt reply.

DISCIPLINARY PROBLEMS OF ORDINARY PEOPLE

Mrs. D. C. writes:

"My little boy of three years is a good child unless crossed, then he goes into a perfect tantrum of rage and lies on the floor, bumping his head and kicking and hitting anyone who comes near him. What on earth can I do with this child? I think he should be conquered, or he will grow worse."

ANSWER

One of the opinions to which we adhere with absolute violence is that a child should never be "conquered." What does that mean except the use of just brute strength? One conquers a horse and makes him know the master says so. What have you afterwards? A beast of burden, constantly subservient to any owner who holds his reins. Is that what one wants to make of a child?

Where do you suppose we get so many gang boys who are willing, nay eager, to follow their leaders? From the homes in which brute strength has been used to conquer them until years have made such methods inadvisable. Then the child, hardened to all finer feelings, goes out in the world, and the first stronger-minded person with whom he comes into contact takes him in hand and leads him around by the nose.

We are hoping and striving to rear children so that they will be self-reliant individuals, with minds of their own and the courage to use them, but who know that there are common laws that bind us all, not because we are afraid of the laws, but because we recognize them as necessary for human society.

Now, this child who lies down and rebels in every way he can against your authority feels that you are using your greater strength in an unjust manner. He doesn't feel that when you tell him he can't do a thing, it is for his own good, but because you don't want to be bothered, or you like to show your authority. He feels this, and in his helplessness, he is full of rage. You have to build up a better understanding between your child and yourself. He ought to know that you are always more than willing to let him do what is possible for him to do, and then he won't resent it angrily when the time comes when you have to say "no." Go out of the room, if you have felt it necessary to forbid any pleasure or action, and leave him alone to his head-bumping. He'll find it expedient to stop.

BON STEIN LEADS EARLY SCORES IN GOLF

Seattle Golfer, Late Entrant In B.C. Title Tourney, Shoots 77

"Chuck" Hunter, of Tacoma, Off Form, Requires 82 for First Eighteen Holes, a Sixty-foot Putt at the Eighteenth Saving Him From Larger Score; Ninety Golfers Start in Qualifying Round at Vancouver To-day; Weather Ideal

Vancouver, April 6.—Bon Stein, Seattle links star, who sent in a late entry yesterday, led the early starters in the British Columbia golf championships which started at Marine Drive this morning. Stein covered the tricky Fraser River course in 77 strokes.

Chuck Hunter, of Tacoma, was next to report with an 82. Hunter was obviously off his game, but cut his score down with a sixty-foot putt on the eighteenth green for a birdie three.

There were some ninety starters in the championships this morning. The weather was ideal, with the exception of a tricky wind which swept across the course.

CANADA WINS FIRST HOCKEY GAME FROM U.S.

PLAY-OFFS TOO STRENUOUS

Strenuous sectional play-offs showed only too plainly in both teams' form in the opening stages. The game was slow until the very second, when the Maroons had the edge on the pps, and they kept the edge on the play from then on. The Montreal forwards played as large a part in the team's defensive as offensive, and fairly well bottled up the Rangers' wings throughout.

FIRST PERIOD

Maroons opened on the attack, and before the Rangers got going, the locals had pounded through for several drives on Chabot, the visiting goalie. Chabot made one particularly good save when Iqton rushed the length of the ice to beat the opposing defence. Rangers soon found their feet, however, and Benedict had several close calls on drives from the Cook brothers. On one occasion Benedict stopped one of Bill Cook's shots and then dropped the disc into the goal mouth. Cook rushed in, and the Montreal goalie cleared just in time. It was a close call.

Johnson drew the first penalty of the game for spilling water, and while the big defence man was off, the Maroons forced, but failed to score.

STUBBORN DEFENCE

Smith was penalized, but the Rangers could do nothing with the advantage in man power. With the return of teams to the rink, the forward lines were sent on by both managers. With the second stringers on the Maroons had an edge, but could not beat a stubborn Maroon defence. It was tight hockey, with close checking predominating. The goalies, however, were having no easy time of it. Stewart got through for a substitute drive on Chabot, while Bill Cook and Boucher tested Benedict in turn with a couple of dangerous lifts. Hooley Smith battered a loose puck from the Maroon defence, and the disc almost beat Chabot. Oatman went off for spilling Bill Cook and was immediately followed by Bourgeault, who tripped Lamb. The period ended with two penalized players still in the coop.

SECOND PERIOD

Almost from the face-off the Cook brothers rushed the Maroons net. Bill Cook shot and brother Bunny just missed the rebound. It was a close call for Benedict. Smith returned the play to the goal, and while the Maroons shot off Chabot's pads, Maroons got a break when Smith, Ward and Stewart broke on the Ranger defence. Ward took Smith's pass, and the Ranger net was robbed of an almost sure save. The Maroons came right back with two more dangerous attacks. Bill Cook went off for upsetting Ward.

The Maroons continued to press, and Chabot had several close calls. Cook returned to play before any material damage had been done. The Ranger right winger signalled his return to the ice with a dazzling rush which all but got him by the Maroon defence. He managed to get away, but his effort was wide of the net.

The rival defences held tight, and the majority of the attacks launched by both teams were broken just inside the rival blue lines.

GAME OPENS UP

The Maroons got the first break, however, when Dutton rushed through the visitors' defence, grabbed his own rebound off the boards, and shot the disc past Chabot.

The goal served to open up the game. The Maroons increased the pressure in an effort to quickly increase their advantage, while the Rangers fought back to make up for lost ground. Siebert and Stewart bounced bullet-like drives off Chabot's pads in turn.

Rangers tried hard, but could not solve the ironclad Maroon defence. Dutton relieved following a Ranger attack, and Leonard just missed netting the big defence man's rebound. Maroons nearly got another when a three-man rush broke through on Chabot. Munro, who took the final pass, however, was forced behind the net by Johnson. In the dying moments, the Rangers attempted to open up, but could not get anywhere against the Montreal guards.

THIRD PERIOD

Munro had the first shot of the period. It was a fast drive from the Ranger defence. Chabot was in on the way, however. Just after Munro shot, he was tripped by Bunny Cook, who drew a minor penalty. He returned to play, however, before the Maroons got any really dangerous work. With Cook's return the Rangers took up the attack, and for a few minutes had the Maroons hemmed Chabot in their own way line. The defence was stubborn, however, and Benedict was given a good reception. Maroons finally broke

U.S. OPPOSE MEXICAN TEAM IN DAVIS CUP

American Stars Hope to Win First Round With Three Straight Victories

Tilden Will Meet Tough Opposition in Howard Kinsey; Doubles To-morrow

Mexico City, April 6.—The United States Davis Cup tennis team to-day hoped to win the first round of the American zone play with three straight victories. Two singles matches were on the programme for this afternoon.

The Americans in their workouts here apparently have not been affected by the high altitude, 7,360 feet above sea level, which was considered one of the biggest obstacles. William Tilden, captain of the Americans, faced what was regarded as the stiffest opposition in Robert G. Kinsey. Bill Hill was pronounced in superb condition in the singles for Mexico. Howard won the Pacific Coast doubles four years running, 1921-24, and the national clay court doubles in 1923 and 1924. In 1925 they toured Japan and then Robert came to Mexico and made his home. The other scheduled match is between John Hennessey, United States, and Ricardo Tapia, Mexico. Tapia, a boy of eighteen, has been under Kinsey's tutelage for more than a year, and has a style suggestive of Vincent Richards, the volleying.

To-morrow afternoon Tilden and Arnold Jones will face Kinsey and Alfonso Vunda in doubles. Vunda played at St. Louis last year against Japan in the singles for Mexico, losing to both Yoshiro Ohta and Takechi Harada. He was born and raised in Mexico City. If the Americans should win three matches they will move into second round, meeting China; in event they lose the concluding singles will be played Sunday. In this Hennessey and Tapia will move into second round, meeting China; in event they lose the concluding singles will be played Sunday. Delaney Signs For Bout With Sharkey away from the pestering visiting forwards, and got in several dangerous attacks themselves. But Cook went off again, and the Maroons forced.

New York, April 6.—Jack Delaney, former light-heavyweight champion, last night signed through his manager to fight Jack Sharkey of Boston in a fifteen-round heavyweight match at Madison Square Garden April 30. Sharkey signed articles last Friday.

Just after Cook's return, the Maroons made it 2-0, with Phillips beating Chabot after he had taken a pass from Munro right in front of the net.

The visiting Rangers attempted to open up, but their attacking efforts were met by an equally strong Montreal offensive, which tapered with an ironclad defence, gave the locals a distinct margin in play.

A promising Ranger attack by Bourgeault and Murdoch broke at the Maroon defence, when Dutton hooked the disc off Bourgeault's stick. Play showed signs of slowing down in the last minutes, but quickly picked up when the Rangers sent a four-man attack into Montreal territory. The locals held on, however, until the bell.

The teams were:

Maroons	Goal	Chabot
Benedict	Defence	Johnson
Munro	Defence	Smith
Dutton	Centre	Boucher
Ward	Wing	Bun Cook
Stewart	Wing	Bill Cook
Phillips	Sub.	Thompson
Lamb	Sub.	Bourgeault
Oatman	Sub.	Boyd
Brown	Sub.	Gray
Summary	Sub.	Callaghan

PENALTIES

First period—Stewart, Johnson, Smith, Oatman and Bourgeault.
Second period—Bill Cook.
Third period—Bunny Cook (2).

T. Fielding Matched Against T. Burge in Ten-round Main Event

Four of Vancouver's crack professional fighters have been signed to appear at the boxing tournament to be staged by Joe Bayley at the Tillamook Club gymnasium on Saturday night, April 14. In the main event Tommy Fielding of Victoria will be matched with Tommy Burge of Vancouver. The bout is for ten rounds. Burge is rated as one of the best boys ever produced in Victoria. In two former fights Fielding gained draws with Billy Townsend and Henry Pollett. Since that time Tommy has been trained by Bayley and he has improved considerably. Preliminaries: The supporting card will also see some good boys in action. Tim Keist of Victoria has been matched with George Cannon of Vancouver. Famous Figure In Racing World Dies

San Diego, Calif., April 6.—Lonnie T. Brown, trainer for the horse racing establishment of Marvin Allen and nationally known figure of the racing world, died last night in a hospital at Yuma, Ariz., after a long illness. He was taken ill with appendicitis on his way East following the closing of the Tia Juana track for the season, and his appendix burst before the surgeons could reach him.

HOOFERS PLOD THEIR WAY THROUGH SNOW AND RAIN

Yesterday's Lap Most Exacting Since Start of Coast-to-coast Marathon; Runners Plunged Into Hot Baths at Finish; David Davies, of Ontario, Drops Out Because of Stomach Trouble; Demarr, of Los Angeles, First to Finish

Amarillo, Texas, April 6.—Accepting the added handicap of adverse weather the ninety runners and walkers remaining in the geece to-day turned toward Groom, forty-two miles east of here. The thirty-third lap of thirty-seven miles from Vega, N.M., yesterday, was one of the most exacting since the start at Los Angeles, March 4. As they lined up at Vega, a flurry of snow offered variety from the clouds of Panhandle silt that had engulfed the caravan. Rain followed the snow, continuing at intervals through the trek.

Demarr, of Los Angeles, was the first to arrive. His mark of 5:29.42 gave him an elapsed time of 297:24.44 for the 1-189 miles. John Salo, Passaic, N.J., was second in 6:05.07. Andrew Payne, Claremore, Okla., Phil Granville, Hamilton, Ont., and Arne Souminen of Detroit, finished less than twenty minutes behind Salo. Souminen continued to lead in elapsed time with 196:07.43.

David Davies, of Sandwich, Ont., was forced to drop out because of a stomach ailment, reducing the field to ninety.

Hot baths were provided for the runners on their arrival here to guard against cold, and trainers worked far into the night washing and drying the muddy tatters of the athletes. As the trucks of the caravan skidded from the highway near here, plans to camp in a park were abandoned and rooms were engaged.

The leaders in elapsed time: Arne Souminen, Detroit, 196:07.43. Andrew Payne, Claremore, Okla., 201:15.28. Peter Gavuzzi, Southampton, Eng., 203:35.10.

John Salo, Passaic, N.J., 213:27.58. John Cronk, Saskatoon, 216:29.00. Ed Gardner, Seattle, 219:26.11. Phil Granville, Hamilton, Ont., 225:23.33.

William Kerr, Minneapolis, 234:56.53. Louis Perrella, Albany, N.Y., 238:28.50.

Mike Joyce, Cleveland, 241:26.40. Harry Rea, Long Beach, 242:39.02.

Volight Hofstater, Manistee, Mich., was temporarily dropped from standing because he was picked up by a patrol car on the Vega-Amarillo lap.

Perfect Weather For University Regatta

Seattle, April 6.—Almost perfect weather and a placid lake assured for the regatta this afternoon between the University of California and University of Washington when a bright sun broke on this morning and the weatherman predicted ideal weather the remainder of the day. A light northerly breeze was forecast but it was not expected to make much of a ripple on the water. The wind would be against the racers.

The Varsity, Junior Varsity and freshmen crews of both schools were pronounced in perfect physical condition this morning.

THISTLES TO MEET NANAIMO IN CUP GAME

Local Champs Oppose Davenport in Second Round of Province Cup Series

Visitors Have Nine Former Nanaimo City Players; Thistles Will Be Strong

In the second round of the Province Cup series, to decide the British Columbia championship, the Saanich Thistles, local city champions, will meet Nanaimo Davenports at the Royal Athletic Park to-morrow afternoon at 3 o'clock. Percy Payne will referee.

The Davenports are practically the former Nanaimo City team, which at present holds the Connaught Cup, emblematic of the Dominion football championship. Nine of the former Nanaimo team are playing with the Davenports and they have one of the classiest clubs in Canada.

This is the Up-Islanders' first appearance here this season and no doubt the game will create plenty of interest among local fans.

THISTLES GOOD

Although idle for several weeks the Thistles have kept in good condition and are fully confident of taking the Davenports down a peg. The local champs entered the second round by defeating St. Paul's, of Vancouver, in their opening round game. The Thistles will have their strongest players on the field and the youngsters have all the confidence in the world.

The Nanaimo team will be composed of the following: Rutledge, Perry, Edmunds, Knight, Thompson, Stubbart, Wilson, Sandland, Clarke, Milburn and Fowler.

Only one juvenile soccer game will be played to-morrow afternoon with James Bay and Esquimalt playing at Beacon Hill in Division I. The kick-off will take place at 2:30 o'clock, with McKay as referee.

Miss Anderson To Be Helen's Partner In Doubles Play

Richmond, Va., April 6.—The Times-Disenath says to-day in a copyrighted article that Miss Penelope Anderson of Richmond has accepted an invitation from the United States Lawn Tennis Association to accompany Miss Helen Willis, national woman champion, on a tour of Europe.

The article says they will pair in doubles play and will sail from New York within two weeks, and that the real significance behind this invitation is to groom Miss Willis and Miss Anderson for the National Doubles tourney this fall. It is explained that Miss Willis sometime ago desired that Miss Anderson be named as her partner, but the Richmond girl awaited a call from the National tennis authorities.

Little Brothers Are Still Humbling Major League Baseball Teams

Cleveland and Cincinnati Only Score One Run Between Them Against Minor League Opponents; New York Giants Subdue Washington When Bill Walker Yields But Two Hits; Pirates Win Easily

New York, April 6.—The humbling of major league baseball clubs by their little brothers continues, although in lesser degree. Only two of the big fellows fell before minors yesterday, but the defeats left no issues in doubt, the losers scoring only one run between them.

The Cleveland Indians lost to Montgomery, of the Southern League, 4-0, while Indianapolis downed Cincinnati 11-1. The Lions, of Montgomery, bunched their hits, while the Indians' safeties did not even count in the averages.

In the rout of Cincinnati at Indianapolis, Jake May could not defend himself with his usually good left and was knocked out in the fourth round; only Ethan Allen's late homer saved the Reds from the fate of the Indians.

FINE PITCHING
The best performance in pitching of the Spring season was contributed by Bill Walker, as he left-handed the New York Giants against the Los Angeles Angels. The Senators reached the big fellow for only two hits, widely scattered.

The Yankees pounded the ball to win 14 to 4 from Gaby Street's Knoxville team of the Sally League. Ruth registered a triple, double, single and drew two bases on balls.

Brooklyn's Robins, aroused by an Atlanta beating day before yesterday, rapped out twenty-one hits to defeat the Crackers 15-2 in the second of the series. Rubo Dressler, who in his entire career as a Robin had made but one hit, delivered four.

The Pittsburgh Pirates won going away from San Antonio, stopping the Texans 10-1. Ray Kremer and Les Meadows of the Buccaneer shook troops, pitched tight ball.

The White Sox, off in front, kept improving their positions until they defeated Louisville 17-6.

BOSTON KEEP GOING

Even presents of floral horseshoes and traveling bags to Kent Greenfield and Lance Richbourg could not stop the Boston Braves against the Nashville Volunteers who were downed 13-4.

The Browns, Cards, Cubs and Tigers were kept out of action by rain.

Yesterday's results were:

B. H. E.
Brooklyn	15 21 1

Rohrer's homer in the fourth, scoring Monroe, clinched the win and Earl Sherry's two-bagger down the third base line in the third, scoring Monroe and Osborne, were the outstanding batting features.

POLICE RIDER STRUCK DOWN

Constable Frederick Pook in Hospital After Motor Mishap

Constable Frederick Pook, struck down by an automobile driven by Mrs. Ernest Maynard, 216 Park Boulevard, while riding on bicycle patrol last night, is confined to St. Joseph's Hospital to-day, but is not seriously injured, according to the latest reports from headquarters.

Constable Pook was riding along Vancouver Street shortly before a o'clock in a southerly direction and when about thirty-five feet north of Collinson Street he was suddenly struck down from behind by Mrs. Maynard's car.

Patrolman Sidney Wilkinson and Constable Duncan McPherson attended the scene of the accident in response to a telephone call from a storekeeper named Benson. They rendered first aid to Constable Pook until the arrival of Dr. J. W. Lennon, who ordered him to hospital. Examination showed that Constable Pook had suffered a concussion of the brain and a fracture of the right arm.

Mrs. Maynard told police that she was blinded by the lights of an approaching automobile and that she did not see the rider ahead of her.

New York, April 5.—Wall Street odds establishing Tom Heenev as a 1-to-3 shot to take the heavyweight championship from Gene Tunney, were disclosed yesterday by the first big wager made on the next title bout. One firm announced it had placed $5,000 against $15,000 on Heenev's chances.

MATCH MANUFACTURE

Nelson, April 6.—Within a week the W. W. Powell Company, manufacturers of match blocks here, will start cutting about 2,000,000 feet of white pine logs. These logs represent the winter's work by small operators.

If Yankee Veteran Pitchers Have Off Year Recruits Will Hold Them

"THERE IS ONLY ONE SOUTHPAW ON THE PITCHING STAFF, PENNOCK... THE YANKS SHOULD GET A LOT OF SLEEP ON THE ROAD THIS YEAR."

St. Petersburg, Fla., April 6.—A first-class stock of machine guns and hand grenades will be a useful asset to the team that keeps the champion New York Yankees from adding another pennant to their string in 1928. That is the impression one gains after watching the Yank athletes in Spring training and taking in an earful of the talk handed out by their inspiring leader, Miller Huggins.

Even the business of throwing cold water on the Yankee pilot's enthusiasm by bringing up the subject of the aged and withered pitching staff is side-stepped in true real estate salesman style.

"What if Urban Shocker doesn't sign, and if years will finally catch up with Hero Penneck?" asks Huggins. "Supposing Waite Hoyt does have a bad year and the veteran Coveleskie forgets all about baseball? The answer is our 'rear rank' pitching staff, composed of Pippen, Thomas, Moore, Johnson and Shealey."

The logic is good, you'll agree, even though the two last named are first-year men. Both, however, are the cream of Class A baseball and, according to Huggins, are good bets to work in many Yankee ball games next summer.

Henry Johnson, a burly right-hander, won eighteen and lost ten for Milwaukee last season, while Ad Shealey was a mound mainstay for the St. Paul club in the same league.

Huggins predicts Pippen will be a star this year if his pitching in the late season and world's series is any criterion.

Another well-thought-of young man is Myles Throckmorton, who will be given the chance to be a regular pitcher this season. Huggins says he has great confidence in the Altoona boy's chances of finally graduating from the role of relief pitcher. Thomas has more ability than he has so far shown in major league competition and this may be his year to blossom forth.

Of course, Wilsey Moore is expected to do as much as always. The raw-boned Oklahoman is already in fine shape. From the form shown by his younger brother, Nick, who is up for his first professional tryout, the name Moore again may play a big part in the Yankees' annual rush for the bunting.

DUGAN MAY LOSE
The balance of the lineup, with the exception of third base, remains as last year, with the bustling twins, Ruth and Gehrig, headlining the Yankee act. Gehrig has already found his batting eye, and, while the Bam is usually slow in getting started, no great fear is felt for the loss of power from his direction.

The hot corner is hotly contested for by Joe Dugan and Gene Robertson, former Brown and late of St. Paul, with Gene having the rail position.

Joe's legs seem to have stood all the way to the stand and Miller Huggins has always been an admirer of Robertson.

Koenig and Lammert seem to have short and second well sewed up, but much promise is shown by Durocher, last year with St. Paul. At first base Lou Gehrig is looking forward to a good year and wants to impress the fan flock with his mastering of the fielding tricks of the initial sack.

Maybe some enterprising recruit can worm his way into that outfield by superhuman stick work in the early part of the campaign, but it looks very much like Ruth, Meusel and Cuyler will be the team's mainstay to the serious business of winning a flag.

seized him. Certainly Hilton's plan was a very good one as his record will attest. I must confess that I have often thought of trying it myself, and more often regretted that I had not. It appears to me the only reasonable way to convince oneself that the hole is not impossible after all.

The feeling is far from comfortable to start upon every round of a championship with visions of disaster upon a certain hole in one's mind. I can recall only one course which I was not aware of that feeling. At Oakmont there was no hole which could trouble a player more than another, and the competitor's mind was always so occupied with the immediate problem that it had little time for the contemplation

Bobby Jones On Golf

THOSE "HOODOO" HOLES

That a great deal of the game of golf is played "between the ears" is conclusively demonstrated by the "jinx" or "hoodoo" holes which pursue every player. I suppose there is no one who has not run across a hole somewhere that for no assignable reason he was unable to conquer.

In every open championship in which I have played, there has been at least one hole in the course which I could not play in the proper figures, the tenth at Oakland Hills, the ninth at Sciota, the second at St. Andrews, the seventh at Flossmoor. I have had a bugbear on every links, and all, I suppose, because I hadn't enough intelligence to go on and play the hole and forget what troubles I had had on the previous round.

Rarely are these troublesome holes especially difficult. I mean to say that there is no physical reason which could explain the players' inability to overcome the difficulty. As silly as it seems, I have seen a good player reach such a state that for days in succession he would drive out of bounds at a certain hole, never being able to avoid the fence, although there was plenty of room inside.

PROVE AN UNCOMFORTABLE MENTAL HAZARD

Harold Hilton, the great English amateur, is reputed to have conquered certain holes by playing them a dozen times after dinner in the long British twilight, until he felt that he had overcome whatever fear had at first

EXPECTANT MOTHERS

Read Mrs. Menard's Letter. Her Experience May Help

Chatham, Ontario.—"I want to tell you how much good your medicine has done me. Before my baby came I felt so weak and run-down that I could hardly do my work. My head ached continually and I was so discouraged that I could cry from morning till night. I had another baby just one year and a half old and it gave me a lot to do. So I thought I would try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, as I had read so much about it in the little books. I found a difference right away as my head was relieved and my tired feelings gone. My sister had been doing my washing and she continued doing it, as she said it might set me back if I started to do it again. It sure did help me and I had taken just two bottles when my baby came. He is a fine big boy, now nearly five months old. I am taking your medicine again and I am able to do my work all by myself now. I always recommend the Vegetable Compound to women, and especially to expectant mothers, as I believe they need help at those times."

Mrs. OLIVER MENARD, 24 Harvey St., Chatham, Ontario.

Threatens Record For 10,000-Metre Race in Toronto

Toronto, April 6.—Covering the distance in time that threatened the American record, Charlie Snell, of the Gladstone A.C., Toronto, showed the way home to a field of twenty-five runners in the 10,000-metre race, one of three long distance running events in a civic athletic carnival to-day. Snell's time was 31 minutes 46 seconds, 2-5 seconds back of the American record, set in 1912 by W. A. Kramer. Forty-four seconds back of the leader came Fred Sergeant, of Galt, with Bill Dahl, Toronto, third. The 5,000-metres went to Walter Horvay, of the Hamilton Olympic Club, with Dave Griffin, his club mate, second, and Len Walsh, of Guelph, third. The time was 17:05.2.

tion of future difficulties. The only thing about Oakmont which I could contemplate with equanimity was watching the last putt go down on the eighteenth green. Troubles would then be over till another day.

GOLFER WHO COULD IGNORE FEAR WOULD BE GOOD

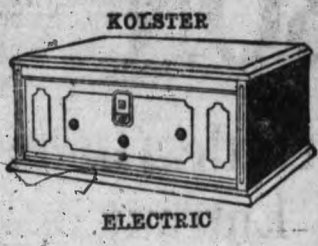

It is, of course, a great tribute to a golf course, that no competitor can find that his troubles are over after he passes a certain hole. Too many of the courses offered for competitions afford few worries except upon a few holes. Usually, if the player gets past a certain point without suffering material damage, he feels that he can go the rest of the way in comparative safety.

I wonder what Mr. Hilton would do if he found troublesome not a hole or two but nine of them all in succession. I should think that would be too many to play a dozen times in the evening even in England. Yet for weeks at home I will continue to play the first nine badly and the second nine well. Then for no apparent reason the worm will turn and all my good scores begin to come on the first nine. It seems to run in streaks.

One or two psychologists have undertaken to tell us something about the golfer's woman, with which they could tell us more, for if ever a man can

NEWS IN BRIEF

As a result of the daffodil tea held at the home of Mrs. E. H. Hale, 3137 Orilla, the Tillamook School piano fund was augmented by $15.

J. E. McRoberts Sr., after a long term of service with the post office, has received a deep armchair and smoking cabinet in token of friendship and the good wishes of his fellow employees on the announcement of his pending retirement. The presentation was made yesterday afternoon. Mr. McRoberts has been a member of the post office staff since 1889.

NEW POLICE PLAN FOR THE PRAIRIE

Reorganized Section of the R.C.M.P. For Saskatchewan and Manitoba

Ottawa, April 6.—The Ottawa Journal publishes the following: "It is probable the Federal Government and the province of Saskatchewan will shortly conclude an agreement for control of police activities within the province, and that this work will be left entirely to the Federal force, the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, according to information obtained by The Journal."

"For some time there has been a serious disagreement between Saskatchewan and the Federal Government over this matter. Provincial officials desired to have supreme control of police activities within their boundaries, whereas, particularly in view of the wide ramifications of narcotic drug smuggling and police work of a vital nature to the whole of Canada, the Dominion desired to maintain the Royal Canadian Mounted Police as an active agency in Saskatchewan, and more especially on the Saskatchewan-Manitoba boundary."

REORGANIZATION PLAN
"While the matter is still before the Cabinet, it is reported special reorganization of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police to meet the situation is under way. These rumors connect the name of Col. G. S. Worsley, assistant commissioner of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, Ottawa, in charge of Eastern Canada with the organization. It is understood Col. Worsley will proceed shortly to Regina, which will be his headquarters, and will have direct command over a special district, which will include Saskatchewan and probably part, if not all, of Manitoba."

CRIMINAL CODE CHARGE INVITED

Vancouver Prosecutor, Discussing Accused Police, Promises Action If Asked

Vancouver, April 6.—Oscar Orr, assistant city prosecutor of Vancouver, advised the police commission at conclusion of its meeting yesterday that Mayor W. M. Mackay, city prosecutor, was willing to prosecute any criminal charge brought to his attention.

"If anybody has knowledge of any criminal offence either by a police officer or anybody else, and the facts are brought to the prosecutor's attention, he will be a royal commissioner at the assize court to deal with it without any delay or trouble," said Mr. Orr.

"I may tell you that it is, of course, a crime for a police officer to take protection money," he added. "It is also a crime to stand by and assist a crime but it is not to that it is a crime to know of a crime having been committed and not to disclose the facts."

Chief Long asserted it was his duty to the discipline of the force to have listening to the grievances of the men.

Referring to Mr. Fletcher's reference to the reorganization of the force, Chief Long reminded him that the reorganization had been carried out on the instructions of the commission.

Chief Long also took exception to Mr. Fletcher's statement that "he questioned his sincerity" in bringing information upon which to base the drastic action you suggest. To discharge the entire morality squad would make me the laughing stock of Canada."

"It is true I requested you to discontinue the services of the morality squad," said Mr. Fletcher. "The proposal was that all could apply for reinstatement. Those not wanted could be left off the force."

"Don't you think you exceeded your authority?" demanded Mayor Taylor. Mr. Fletcher explained he had made the proposal in the form of a suggestion.

GREAT FIRE IN CUBA FOUGHT BY HUNDREDS

Blaze at Oil Refinery Across Harbor From Havana Menaces Residents and Ships

Havana, April 6.—Soon after it was believed a great fire in the Standard Oil Company's refinery at Regia, across the harbor from Havana, was out, flames again broke out this afternoon. The entire Havana fire department, Cuban police and sailors from United States warships again were massed to fight the fire.

STARTED AT 10 P.M.
Havana, April 6.—The great fire in the Standard Oil Company's refinery at Regia, across the harbor from Havana, which started at 10 o'clock last night, was still raging this morning. A change in the wind, however, relieved fears the flames would spread to the gasoline tanks, where 3,000,000 gallons are stored. The casualty list had mounted to eighty injured, including eleven United States sailors. Only one was seriously injured, but the Red Cross stations set up by the men of the United States battleship Wyoming had plenty to do.

All ships anchored in the harbor were ordered to move out closer to the mouth of the bay, as further explosions were feared, and the burning oil caused additional hazards.

SEVERAL EXPLOSIONS
Several explosions occurred last night at the refinery, and the task of holding the fire reasonably in check was an almost unmountable one. The loss is estimated at $2,000,000.

The first belief of the company officials was the fire was due to faulty electrical wiring, but the police were of the opinion it was the work of an incendiary.

During the explosions last night all the inhabitants fled from the town.

Rubber Market Still Unsettled

London, April 6.—The rubber market in Mexico Lane still was unsettled today, the market watching closely the effect of Premier's Baldwin's announcement that all export restrictions from British Malaya and Ceylon would be removed on November 1.

Spot rubber and nearby months declined 1/4 under liberal offerings, but some support infused a steadier tone to the market, which was a fraction above the lowest point.

The market in Singapore received the Premier's announcement calmly, prices fell to about 34 cents, while offerings of raw material were all absorbed.

News of the end of the restriction in November was received in Colombo with a feeling of relief. All agents are reported to have instructed their states to commence tapping freely.

Public Opinion In Britain Stirred By Two Naval Trials

London, April 6.—The court martial growing out of the controversy over jazz music on the British battleship Royal Oak at Malta has deeply stirred public opinion and it was evident today the affair would not be allowed to end with the promulgation of the sentences.

Two of the officers involved, Commander E. M. Dwyer and Captain Kenneth G. Dewar, were sentenced to dismissal from their ships and given severe reprimands. Rear-Admiral Berkeley St. G. Collier, who was in command of the ship, was not expected immediately as the findings of the court martial must be reviewed first.

A verdict of guilty in the case of Charles Matson, alias William Doak, charged with attempting to break and enter, was returned by an Assize Court jury. He was remanded for sentence.

The court adjourned till next Tuesday.

NO ELECTION SLUMP IN U.S. ANTICIPATED

Herbert Hoover Appears to Be Presidential Choice, E. H. Naylor, N.Y., Believes

Largest Industries, Building, Railways and Automobile, Never in Better Shape

"There will be no presidential slump this year," to-day said Emmet H. Naylor, New York attorney, when discussing the presidential elections in the United States this Fall.

Public opinion south of the line, according to Mr. Naylor, appears to be overwhelming in favor of Herbert Hoover, United States Secretary of Commerce, as the next President of the United States.

Mr. Naylor is of the opinion that Mr. Hoover will get the Republican nomination next month and that he will be elected President in November next by a large majority.

"I agree with the majority of the Americans who accept the expressed view of the great inventor, Thomas Edison, who said: 'We'll be 4—4 fools if we don't elect Hoover as President.'"

If President Coolidge had consented to run again he would in all probability have been elected for another term, but as he has declined to seek re-election, Herbert Hoover seems to be the favorite, Mr. Naylor says. And he takes the view that the presidential election will not affect business adversely in the United States and that the slump following former elections will not occur.

Mr. Naylor says that the three largest and most important industries in the United States, building, railways and automobile, were never in a better position and these industries reflect the general economic condition in the country.

DEAL LEADS TO EXTENSIONS OF POWER SYSTEMS

Merging of Companies Expected to Benefit Montana, Idaho and Washington

American Power and Light Co. Pays $82,000,000 For Montana Power Co.

New York, April 6.—John D. Ryan has agreed to sell the Montana Power Company to the American Power and Light Company, a unit of the Electric Bond and Share Company, at a price described as "above $82,000,000."

Mr. Ryan said he and the other directors would recommend acceptance by the other shareholders of the American Power and Light Company's offer.

The Montana Power Company, described as one of the biggest generators of power in the northwestern United States, has outstanding 495,333 shares of common stock, which closed in the New York Stock Exchange yesterday at $165.50, and has a funded debt of $46,921,000.

Subject to the approval of its stockholders, the American Power and Light Company has agreed to exchange its shares for each share of $5 preferred stock for each share of Montana Power common stock of a par value of $100.

A banking syndicate has offered to purchase the preferred stock at $83 a share, plus accrued dividends from April 1.

EXTENSIONS PLANNED
The system of the Montana Power Company fits logically into the American Power and Light properties, interconnected with the Washington Water Power Company, recently acquired by the group, which in turn connects with another subsidiary, the Pacific Power and Light Company. The grouping of these units into a single system, with unified control, officials of the American Power and Light Company say, will result in operating economies and improvements which will prove beneficial to the territories served.

CANADIAN-NEW ZEALAND TRADE IN 1927

Official statistics recently received from the New Zealand Department of Customs and showing the value of imports from Canada during the calendar year 1927, indicate that the total of this trade amounted to $2,719,387, writes Assistant Trade Commissioner Paul Sykes, Auckland, in the forthcoming issue of The Commercial Intelligence Journal.

This figure is less $711,851 than that of the previous twelve months period, which was also less by $485,164 than the 1925 total of $3,906,152.

The trend of Canadian-New Zealand trade has paralleled fairly closely the total import trade of the Dominion, the decrease in the volume of Canadian business apparent during the last two years reflecting a general contraction in imports and at the same time marking changes or changing conditions surrounding the business relations of the two Dominions.

Motor vehicle chassis and parts declined from a value in 1926 of $902,741 to $336,773 in 1927, a falling off of 63 per cent.

The other half dozen leading commodities exported by Canada to New Zealand, those of rubber manufactures, chiefly automobile tires, show large increases, newspaper shipments have during 1927 exceeded their previous high total, the trade in electric apparatus has been satisfactorily maintained, import values of iron and steel bars, bolts and rods, increased by some $38,000, canned salmon exports reflect only a minor decline, and only some iron and steel goods, and cedar and hemlock lumber show noticeable decreases.

A substantial growth during the current year should result both from the improvement in business conditions throughout the country as well as from the provisions of the recently revised tariff under which numerous increases in preferential rates (some of which have yet to take effect) have given new advantages to exporters in British Empire countries.

WEEKLY GRAIN REVIEW

By BRANSON BROWN & COMPANY LIMITED

Chicago, April 6.—Wheat—Bullish crop news from the soft wheat sections of Missouri, Illinois, Indiana and Ohio caused a further advance to new high levels for the crop in the new crop deliveries the past week but towards the end of the period there was heavy profit taking and a lot of back spreading which caused a substantial reaction from the top levels. The private reports on winter wheat acreage and condition indicated a loss of approximately twenty per cent in the area from winter wheat and crop estimates from 320,000,000 to 355,000,000 bushels. These reports indicated that the big increase in wheat was practically wiped out, with a fairly low condition on the remaining acreage except in the southwest where the outlook is favorable. In the soft wheat states there is a variable calamity so far as the wheat crop is concerned in many sections the loss being almost a total one. However, the amount of winter wheat elsewhere was of moderate extent and there is still a possibility of as much winter wheat as last year. Probabilities point to a large increase in spring wheat yield of last season. The outlook for the spring wheat is doubtful if the spring wheat yield of last season is duplicated. Good rains all through the belt the latter part of the week relieved apprehension in regard to moisture conditions. Kansas, Oklahoma and Texas are excellent crops which will prove of immense benefit. There is still a considerable area that is still facing a season deficiency in most cases, but on the whole, the winter wheat outlook is favorable.

Foreign crop news indicated some winter wheat on the whole the European outlook is satisfactory.

The cash situation presents few new factors. March went out with no great pressure developing although strenuous efforts were made to bring wheat here to outside markets. It is now expected there will be some Duluth wheat brought here at the opening of navigation. It would be an unusual year if some were not brought here. Buffalo and eastern mills are likely to take a good share of the Duluth wheat, however, and it is possible some of it will go for export for milling. The visible is still much larger in this country than a year ago and the Canadian stocks are heavy. European stocks are counted on to supply the bulk of the needs, although there is not likely to be any hardheaded surplus. Flour trade is fair, and production keeps well above the total for the same time last year and two years ago.

Domestic cash markets continue firm. Primary receipts are running much larger than a year ago and the market is showing moderate absorption. The wheat market has had a big advance and the prices have been tempted to holders who have taken profits freely. The big loss in winter wheat makes the general situation two-sided and any unfavorable developments west or southwest would quickly reflect in active buying in the city.

Corn—The market became less active the past week and many of the staunchest friends of corn for some time past appeared to have deserted this grain, either pulling out of the market entirely or going into wheat. There was selling of corn against purchases of wheat and also spreading between hard red corn. As a matter of fact corn seemed to get the sell-off end of nearly every spread. The receipts of corn have kept up but the rate lower than expected and the export demand failed to come up to expectations. The situation still has many elements of strength, but these are in abeyance at the present time. The cash demand is fair but the demand is not expected until after the opening of navigation. Southwest markets are still selling corn to come to Chicago.

Receipts at primary points are much larger than a year ago. Argentine corn estimates a smaller yield than the past two years. The Argentine surplus is estimated at 200,000,000 to 220,000,000 bushels. Prices are much higher than a year ago.

Needs are expected to be heavy but traders are inclined to wait to see the actual changes in May will be. In the meantime a two-sided market is indicated.

Statistically the oats situation is stronger than any other grain but the serious selling on all hills advances encourages efforts to rally the market and the trade continues sluggish. The new crop, acreage undoubtedly will be heavy and this is having a dampening influence on prices. A narrow market is indicated.

Rye—Prices have covered a moderate range. There is not much pressure and at the same time the demand appears easily satisfied on the hard spots. Foreign reports are bullish and continental stocks are admittedly small. The new crop is indicated at around 45,000,000 bushels or about 10,000,000 bushels less than a year ago.

Barley—The market is still a fairly low condition on the remaining acreage except in the southwest where the outlook is favorable. In the soft wheat states there is a variable calamity so far as the wheat crop is concerned in many sections the loss being almost a total one. Wall Street To-day

New York, April 6.—Wall Street's "bull" market was still boiling as the stock exchange closed its doors Thursday afternoon for a three-day recess over Easter. Speculators, rolling up total transactions of 3,897,500 shares, raised more than three score issues to new high levels and increased market values of dozens of others $2 to $11 a share.

Unfavorable developments again were disregarded as buying continued in the face of higher call money and a virtual certainty that Federal Reserve brokers' loans would be at a new high record. This total, announced after the close, showed an increase of $153,929,000 to the largest figure in all time, $9,979,380,000.

General Motors, stimulated by reports that a new pool had been formed in the stock, again took its position as a market leader, and a new high of $27.75 was reached at the close.

Studebaker, Hudson and Nash also moved up about $2 each. Radio, which had slipped $2.75 at one time, was rather sluggish, and did not attract general interest until after the close of the market, when it was announced that the company had been re-elected, investigating reports of a technical corner in the stock, had rescinded their request for reports by the members.

Radio issues were decidedly active, lending color to reports that some vital development was impending in the eastern railway merger situation, although no announcement was made by executives of the four trunk lines, meeting here yesterday. Delaware and Hudson, of which L. F. Lore, sponsor of the trunk line plan, is president, had a net gain of $1 to $1.84, and Pittsburgh and West Virginia, a key road in the eastern merger map, closed at $10.67 1/2, a new high of $15.84 1/2.

New York Central, Baltimore and Ohio and Nickel Plate were up $1 to $2 a share.

To-morrow's Horoscope

SATURDAY, APRIL 7, 1928

Mensching stars rule to-day, according to astrology, which finds the aspects threatening to many human activities. There is an especially unfavorable aspect for those who would indulge in romance, for they may expect short-lived love. This is not a lucky wedding day, since it presages many quarrels and general lack of sympathy.

This is read as an unlucky day for beginning an ocean voyage, for it may bring friends that were better unknown. While the planetary government may incline both men and women toward flirtation, it is unlikely to promote marriage. If the prophets are to be believed, there will be many hasty marriages before the end of the summer.

Interest in dress will be strong as the summer advances, for fashions that have a serious significance will gain favor. The reactionary spirit, so long foretold, will be strongly revealed before autumn, when women will gain power through return to the cultivation of distinctly feminine charm.

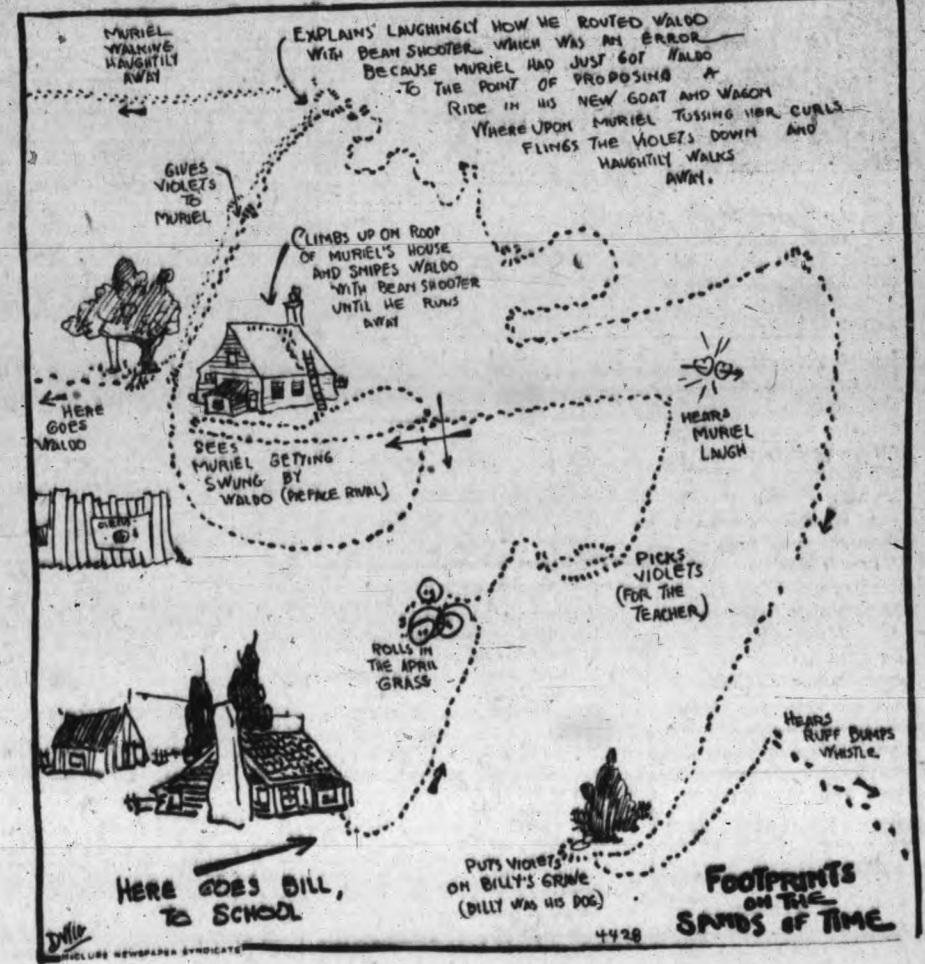

The summer is to be marked by increased interest in sports and new contenders for honors will gain reputations. Persons whose birthdate it is have the augury of many social triumphs, including numerous love affairs.

Beauty culture is to continue with unabated zeal, it is forecast, but artificiality is to go out of fashion, it is foretold. Children born on this day probably will enjoy many gifts of mind and possess much charm, but they may be inclined to pleasure. (Copyright, 1928)

BEDTIME STORY

Uncle Wiggily and the Owl's Omelet

Copyright, 1928, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate

(By Howard R. Garis)

Squeaky Squealer, the little pig boy, whose big, jolly, fat dadday was taking him to Dr. Possum to have him cured of crying, stood looking at the picture which Uncle Wiggily had made in the sand with a pointed stick for a pencil.

No more tears were falling from Squeaky's eyes. For Uncle Wiggily had made a funny mistake in the picture that he drew of a barn with a wind arrow on top and smoke coming out of the chimney.

"Have you found what is wrong with the picture, Squeaky?" asked the rabbit gentleman.

"Yes," grunted the little pig boy. "I have. Ha! Ha! Ha! No! No! You made the wind arrow pointing one way, Uncle Wig, and you made the smoke from the barn chimney blow the other way! The smoke ought to blow to the right side of the barn instead of to the left, for the wind is coming from the southwest. The smoke ought to blow the same way the trees blow."

"That's right, Squeaky!" said Mr. Longears, and the little pig boy laughed in delight at his cleverness.

"Why, why?" grunted Mr. Twisty-tail. "He's stopped crying! You have cured him, Uncle Wiggily! You are as good as Dr. Possum!"

"He's better!" cried Squeaky. "cause he didn't give me any nasty medicine to take as Dr. Possum would. Go on, Uncle Wig! Make me some more wrong pictures, or do some puzzles, please."

"After a while I will," promised the rabbit gentleman. "Just now I am going to look for some adventures." So Mr. Twisty-tail took Squeaky on to school, which could be done, now that the little pig was no longer crying, and packing-house offals, and the business is increasing, writes Trade Commissioner Harry A. Scott, Liverpool, in the forthcoming issue of The Commercial Intelligence Journal. The offals most in demand are tripe, ox kidneys, livers, ox hearts, ox tails, lamb's hearts and sheep's kidneys. Apart from the fresh supply of offal obtained from abattoirs such as at Birkenhead and Manchester, the main sources are South America, United States and Australasia. Canadian exports are confined chiefly to livers, ox and pork kidneys, ox tails and tripe, of which liver is the most important article of export.

AT THE THEATRES"THE SOMME," HUGE BRITISH WAR EPIC, IS MOST REALISTIC FILM

"The Somme," to my mind is an improvement on "Ypres" and "Mons" in its pictorial effects and the realism of the depiction of the various sides of battle. I have never seen in any film before such true night scenes, troops moving up to the front under cover of darkness. It is a triumph of photography. Not have I seen such perfect representations of the horizon lit up by the intermittent flashes of gun fires. Every side of war is shown, the rocking to and fro of big guns in action, the race of rival armies in underground sapping, the destruction of machine guns by aeroplane, the suspense of zero hour, the hateful spitting of machine gun and hand-to-hand fighting with bayonet and revolver. The Somme is showing at the Coliseum this week.

BESSIE LOVE TAKES PART OF "FLAPPER" IN "THOSE WHO DANCE"

Bessie Love went on an extensive shopping tour prior to the filming of "Those Who Dance," a Thomas H. Ince production. But, instead of purchasing the usual expensive fur wraps and imported frocks, she indulged in quantities of gaudy jewelry, flashy bracelets, dangly earrings, rings, brooches, while gasping foreigners looked on in amazement. The jewels worn by Miss Love in her new role, her first appearance as a little "flapper" of the underworld, Blanche Sweet and Warner Baxter also have leading roles in "Those Who Dance," a first National release, showing at the Playhouse Theatre.

MONTE MONTAGUE IS SEEN IN HIS FIRST FEATURE AT VARIETY

Monte Montague is known to serial and Western fans all over the world. During fourteen years of motion picture experience, he has never before appeared in a feature production. His first film is "The Mystery Club," a Universal photoplay now showing in crowded houses at the Variety Theatre. Other members of the all-star cast are Matt Moore, Edith Roberts, Mildred Harris, Charles Lane, Warner Oland, Henry Hebert, Charles Puffy, Alphonse Mariell, Finch Smiles, Earl Metcalfe, Nat Carr, Jed Prouty, Alfred Allen and Sidney Bracey.

REX, WONDER HORSE, FEATURED IN FILM NOW AT COLUMBIA

For the first time in her motion picture career, June Marlowe was badly frightened when she narrowly escaped being run down by a wild horse during the filming of "Wild Beauty," the Universal production which is now gripping audiences at the Columbia Theatre. Rex, the king of wild horses, is the star of the picture and has a

FAMOUS HAROLD BELL WRIGHT-OZARD DRAMA SHOWING AT CAPITOL

One of the screen's most appealing love stories, told with the photographically beautiful Ozark Mountains as a background, is "The Shepherd of the Hills," now heading the entertainment bill at the Capitol Theatre.

"The Shepherd of the Hills" is a First National Pictures screen version of the famous novel by Harold Bell Wright, and the lovers of the story, "Sammy" Lane and Young Matt, are portrayed by Molly O'Day and John Douglas. Albert Rogell directed the picture, which was produced for First National by Charles R. Rogers.

In the cast also are Alvin Francis, who plays the title role, Matthew Betz, as the villain; and Romaine Fielding, Otis Harlan, Joseph Bennett, Maurice Murphy, Carl Stockdale, Marion Douglas, John Westwood and other notable artists. They give exceedingly human characterizations, and the plot is packed with drama and suspense.

"GARDEN OF ALLAH" SHOWING AT DOMINION THEATRE THIS WEEK

"The Garden of Allah" at Biskra, Algeria, is exactly as described by Robert Hichens in his novel, which Rex Ingram filmed abroad for Metro-Goldwyn. The famous picture is now showing at the Dominion Theatre. All in all, it has deteriorated scarcely at all in the twenty-five years since Mr. Hichens first published it as being on the "oasis of Beni-Mora overlooking the great Sahara Desert."

"ROSES OF PICARDY" SHOWING AT VARIETY THEATRE NEXT WEEK

The war has been film-treated in varying degrees, from the brutality of "The Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse" to the film war-to-end-war, "Lost Price of Glory." "Roses of Picardy" treats the war from an entirely new angle, giving a wholly human impression of its effects on the lives of soldiers and civilians.

Famous Light Comedian to Make First Appearance in Victoria at Royal

With the engagement of Seymour Hicks at the Royal Victoria Theatre, commencing Monday, April 9, Victoria will add another "star" to its theatrical crown, for this will be the first appearance here of the greatest living light comedian of the London and English stage. In his history, Victoria has enjoyed the acting of many brilliant English and American stars, but never has had the pleasure of seeing a comedian doing exactly the same type of comedy or of such distinctive ability. Seymour Hicks is devoted to the modern drama and he has made his own adaptations of the most successful French farcical comedies of the day. Two of these, which he is presenting here, "Mr. What's His Name" and "The Man in Dress Clothes," offer novel plots and situations and should create the greatest merriment ever enjoyed in the theatre.

Mr. Hicks has the support of his own London company direct from the St. James Theatre. Ellaline Terriss, his beautiful and gifted wife, is his leading lady. Mr. Hicks is presenting his plays here with exactly the same scenic investiture he gave them in their long London runs.

CHAPLIN APPEALS TO THE FEELINGS IN LATEST PICTURE

Charlie Chaplin, whose newest comedy, "The Circus," comes to the Dominion Theatre next week, believes films should appeal to the emotions, not merely to the intellect. "In 'The Circus,' as in all my pictures, I appeal to the feelings," says Charlie. "I am not at all fond of merely clever things. I do not want to make my films purely intellectual; they must have moving power in them. Of course, different things move different people. I have sat down and deliberately said to myself: 'I will enjoy this poetry of Keats or Shelley, or whenever it happened to be.' 'But I can't. I can't get it from the words, as I can, for instance, through watching a dancer. Pavlova, to me, is all life. She embodies everything. I try to clasp the poetry in my films as she embraces it in her great art. And the rhythm.' Charlie again spoke of the emotional appeal in a picture.

"You cannot emphasize too much the importance of orchestral scores for pictures. I believe that the score should be made as the picture is made, and not that people should spend a year making a film and then have a score written in a week. It is just as though Pavlova were to say: 'I shall dance—and, oh, yes—we shall have some music, too.' 'The picture of to-day is dance, swing, movement. Hence its orchestral arrangement is just as important.' Charlie Chaplin personally supervised

One of the screamingly funny situations in "Mr. What's His Name," in which Seymour Hicks opens his engagement at the Royal on Monday, April 9, the same play also being billed for Tuesday evening and Wednesday afternoon. On Wednesday and Thursday evenings a double bill composed of "Burroughs" and "Sleeping Partners" will be presented, and the engagement will close with "The Man in Dress Clothes," as the offering for Friday and Saturday.
